Yanks Down 4 Jap Planes

Washington
Feb. 7 (AP)

•U. S. OFFICIAL

By JOSEPH A. BORS

As concealed enemy batteries began blasting American-held fortresses in Manila bay, the War Department today disclosed that U. S. pursuit planes have shot down at least four enemy aircraft in sky battles over the Philippines and the Netherlands East Indies.

In the second aerial battle of its type in the southwestrn Pacific, eight American P-40 pursuit planes fought a larger force of Japanese fighters and bombers over Bali, shooting down at least three enemy craft.

Over the Philippines, two of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's pursuit planes engaged in a duel with four Jap dive bombers, shooting down one of the Nipponese planes.

Mention of concealed enemy batteries on the southeastern shore of Manila bay in the War Department's communique, indicated that the American fortresses in recent action failed to knock out all of the gun emplacements erected by the Japanese.

A three-hour enemy artillery barrage appeared to be the signal for a concentrated attempt by Japanese to knock out some of the American fortifications which have prevented the invaders from making use of Manila bay.

Since the fire was concentrated on Fort Drum, Fort Hughes and Fort Mills—all of them in Manila bay—it appeared that Japan is seeking to knock out the guns of the smaller fortified islands before attempting a large scale assault on the main fortress on Corregidor.

To date Corregidor has prevented the Japanese from outflanking MacArthur's embattled army on Bataan peninsula. Aerial attacks by heavy Japanese bombers early last month failed to silence Corregidor's guns and cost the Japs at least 40 planes in six attacks.

The Netherlands Indies high command today announced destruction of an enemy cruiser and transport and hits on a second cruiser and submarine, but conceded most of Amboin island, site of the strategic Amboina naval base, is under Japanese control.

The communique also reported a new Jap bombing raid on the great Soerabaja naval base, but indicated damage was not serious.

A supplementary announcement categorically denied Japanese claims, circulated yesterday, that the N. E. I. fleet had been totally destroyed.

The Ambonia base is the second most powerful base in the Netherlands East Indies, ranking only below Soerabaja, which has now experienced three Japanese air attacks.

WEST BORNEO CAPITAL FALLS

Ambon, in the Moluccan sea between Celebes and New Guinea, is the fifth Netherlands Indies point to be occupied since the start of the invasion, Jan. 4.

Today's communique admitted that Pontianak, capital of Dutch West Borneo, has been "completely occupied." Previously the Japanese took Tarakan island off the east coast of Borneo, the east Borneo port of Balikpapan, the Menado region of north Celebes and the Kendari area of southest Celebes.

"During an air raid on Soerabaja a number of bombs were dropped on the harbor front, inflicting slight damage on the cookhouse of the naval base. No other damage was done to the naval base," the communique said.

"Further information about the third attack has not yet been received.

Japanese long range guns shelled residential areas of Singapore today for the first time, and British artillery, in a thundering cannon duel, silenced a Nipponese battery and engaged enemy small boats in Johore strait.

(The communique reporting the engagement of Japanese small boats did not make clear whether the Japanese were attempting to cross the narrow Johore strait, but the craft mentioned are the type which likely would be used in an effort to land small bodies of men on the northern shore of Singapore island.)

The British Far East command while announcing there had been some shelling of residential areas, did not state the extent of damage.

At the same time, it said the Japanese again raided the fortified island and caused some damage by bombs.

PLANE DESTROYED

British guns trained on the coastline of southern Johore smashed an enemy battery in that area, the communique said.

The British said the Japanese shelling had increased in intensity and was causing some damage in the north of the island. A few casualties were reported.

When the Japanese air raiders came over the oft-bombed city for their customary morning raids, fighters of the Far East command rose to join battle and destroyed one Japanese aircraft, the command said.

It added that another plane probably was destroyed and two damaged, while all the British fighters returned to their base.

It was announced that during yesterday's raids on Singapore island one Japanese army 97 twin bomber and one single engine

Outside Leningrad the Germans were driven back after leaving 900 dead, it was stated, while the Red army on the central front pushed closer to strategic Smolensk over fierce Nazi opposition.

According to the Soviet communique, four German infantry battalions were "partly annihilated" on the Leningrad front. In this sector the Russians threw the Germans out of eight armored forts and 45 block houses.

Violent fighting was reported just east and west of Rzhev, 150 miles northwest of Moscow, where Soviet infantry protected by heavy tanks were closing in on the German garrison.

Maj.-Gen. Walter C. Short and Rear-Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, commanders in Hawaii at the time of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, have applied for retirement to civil life.

The announcement came simultaneously today from the War and Navy Depts.

Gen. Short, who commanded the Army's Hawaiian department and Adm. Kimmel, the Pacific fleet commander, have been without assignment since they were ordered relieved from their posts by President Roosevelt ten days after the surprise air raid on the Pacific outpost.

Both were charged with "dereliction of duty" in the report of the Roberts commission which investigated the attack.

Secretary of War Stimson said Short's application was now under consideration by the War Department but gave no hint as to what action would be taken.

A commissioned officer for approximately 40 years, Short is eligible for retirement on his own application.

The Navy said also that Kimmel's application was under consideration.

ACCEPTANCE LIKELY

Informed circles considered it likely both applications would be accepted as a solution of disciplinary problems. Other alternatives are court-martial trials for the two men, or their reassignment to active duty.

Since Dec. 17 Kimmel has been on temporary duty, residing in San Francisco. Short has been at his home in Oklahoma City.

Kimmel, a native of Henderson, Ky., will be 60, Feb. 26. He was promoted to the grade of rear admiral in November, 1937, and reported for duty as commander of cruiser division 7 nine months later.

In June, 1939, he was commander of cruisers in the battle force and Feb. 1, 1941, he assumed duty as commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet with additional duty as commander-in-chief of the United States fleet. The latter command was accompanied by the rank of admiral.

A native of Fillmore, Ill., Gen. Short is 61.

DIES REVEALS AXIS PLOT FOR ARMED INVASION OF U.S.

Washington, Feb. 7 (INS)

Rep. Martin Dies (D.), of Texas, today declared he has information which he believes to be reliable that Axis forces will attempt to land simultaneously on the United States east and west coasts in the next 12 months.

Dies said that the information had come to his committee on un-American activities from "conversations in pro-Nazi groups in this country" and from people recently returned from Germany.

"We have received strong intimations that the grand strategy of the Axis in the next 12 months will be to attempt to land invading forces on our East and West coasts," Dies declared.

"It will be a combined war effort with the Japanese, German and Italian fleets in a desperate attempt to make landings, and it may also include attempted invasion in South America.

"The effort will not be made so much with the hope of actually holding territory on this continent, but to make surprise raids to strike a blow at United States defenses, to bolster Axis morale, and to influence people in other countries who are in the doubtful column as far as the war is concerned."

U.S. Sub Sunk In Collision; Only 3 Saved

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Navy announced today that the submarine S-26 collided with another naval vessel the night of Jan. 24 and sank off Panama with the loss of all but three of its crew.

The collision occurred, the Navy said, while the submarine was engaged in surface operations.

The survivors, who were standing on the bridge of the submarine and were thrown clear, were Lieut.-Commander Earle C. Hawk, commanding officer; Lieut. Robert E. N. Ward, and Joe B. Hurst, first class seaman.

NEXT OF KIN TOLD

The Navy announced "the next of kin of the casualties have been notified," but did not disclose the complement of the stricken craft.

Six Navy divers were sent from Washington to help divers already engaged in rescue operations. Contact was first established with the sunken ship in 301 feet of water five days after the craft sank, but, the Navy added "there was no indication of life on board."

Submarines of the S-26 type ordinarily carry approximately 35 officers and men.

There was evidence men were still alive on board soon after the crash. A buoy projected from the submarine's signal gun was discovered on the surface and contained a message saying the crew members were in the central operating compartment.

RESCUE BELL USELESS THERE

The note explained that both ends of the vessel, fitted with compartments designed for diving bell rescue, were flooded.

Naval experts said that because of the design of the S-26's conning tower structure it was impossible to use the rescue bell over the central compartment.

S-26 SKIPPER TELLS HOW SHIP SANK

ABOARD A RESCUE SHIP AT SEA, Feb. 7 (INS)—Lieut. Comdr. Earle O. Hawk of Saugerties, N. Y., commander of the ill-fated United States Submarine S-26, today calmly and simply told how it feels to have your ship go down beneath your feet.

Lieut.-Commdr. Hawk is one of the three survivors. Hope has been abandoned for other officers and crew members.

Hawk said:

"It was about 10 p. m. on Saturday (Jan. 24) when the deck officer sent word to me that a ship had been sighted.

"I went to the bridge to investigate.

"There was nothing unusual about this particular situation as we frequently sight ships for investigation.

"This ship passed well clear of starboard. She was a small merchant ship.

"Shortly after that the vessel (the vessel protecting the submarine) was sighted on a general northerly course, a mile distant.

"The submarine changed course with the idea of passing well clear of the escor tship, which apparently was on a parellel course. It was only a minute or so after that that the escort ship was seen maneuvering, changing course toward the submarine.

"All our engines were then backed in emergency, the collision alarm sounded and shortly afterward the escort vessel hit the submarine on the starboard side.

"When the collision alarm sounded all compartments and openings had been closed. After the impact the S-26 remained stationary on an even keel for about 15 or 20 seconds with no list.

"Then, suddenly, she took a heavy downward angle and went down at an angle of about 45 degrees.

"Four of us (the Navy said three were saved) remained on the bridge until the bridge went under, then the water welled over us.

"There was turmoil and suction, and we found ourselves swimming. The escort vessel was standing by to pick up the survivors.

"And that's all of the story."

S-26 Launched in 1922 At Quincy Yards

The S-26 was launched Aug. 22, 1922, at Fore River shipyards, having been built under subcontract from the Electric Boat Co., Groton, Ct.

She was 219 feet long and capable of 14½ knots on the surface. At the time of her launching she was considered one of the finest submersibles in the world.

Boy, 13, Killed In Cambridge Snow Battle

An unidentified 13-year-old boy was killed today in Cambridge as the result of a snowball battle which turned into a fist fight with an 11-year-old opponent.

Although police questioned a number of children in the Cambridgeport section, where the tragedy occurred, they were unable to find any who knew the name of the dead lad, and were of the opinion he came from another part of the city.

Questioning the other boy in the fight, they learned the stranger became the target of snowballs when he arrived at the height of the battle.

Coming to close quarters, the 11-year-old grappled with the other boy and at one point struck him in the stomach. The stranger complained of the slippery sidewalk and as they started for the middle of the street he collapsed.

Taken to Cambridge City Hospital in a police ambulance the boy was pronounced dead by Dr. Cornelius Driscoll.

JUNIOR VICTORY ARMY ENDORSED BY SEN. LODGE

Gaining in volume on every incoming mail, hundreds and hundreds of enrollments of boys and girls in the new Junior Victory Army continue to sweep into headquarters.

Swamping a corps of clerks, they have come from all sections of New England's six states testifying to the patriotic zeal and the earnest desire of boys and girls to be of SERVICE to their country and community.

Herbert W. Lunn

So great has been the amount of mail that no accurate figure on the total enlistments to date can be given at this time. The clerks are far behind in their count.

But in the first few days 5000 memberships were counted and plainly indicated the widespread interest in this new youth movement to arouse more enthusiasm in defense measures by New England youth.

Meanwhile another noted name has been added to the long list of prominent persons who have heartily endorsed the establishment and the objectives of the Junior Victory Army. It is that of U. S. Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., a facsimile of

F.D. Signs Bill For 1799 Ships

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Legislation authorizing expenditure of $750,000,000 to provide construction facilities for 1799 minor naval combatant vessels ranging from supply ships to death-dealing torpedo boats was signed into law today by President Roosevelt.

Simultaneously, he approved a measure—part of the gigantic fleet expansion program—authorizing expenditure of $450,000,000 for naval shore facilities.

Plans for construction of the 1799 minor vessels was estimated to call for eventful expenditure of nearly $3,000,000,000.

To the Editor of the Boston American:

Responding to your recent inquiry, I am glad to have the chance to tell you of my approval of the proposition that our boys and girls be encouraged to learn First Aid, plant "Victory" gardens, sell defense stamps and bonds and do a variety of other tasks which are so essential in the work of Civilian Defense. I am sure that our children have a tremendous contribution to make and that they are enthusiastically anxious to do it. Any movement which aims to encourage this worthy objective is entitled to sympathetic consideration.

DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE—When fire threatened their Waltham home today, June Innis and Lois Freeman, both 15 years old, were driven to the street. Blaze was confined to third floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McKee. Two alarms were sounded.

Harvey Kellogg, 32, of Spring st., Medford, suffered first and second degree burns on his arms and body as he carried his youngsters to safety from their flaming attic room.

One by one he lifted them out a window to an icy porch roof, where he told them to lie still until the firemen arrived. Meanwhile, Mrs. Kellogg had run to a nearby fire box to pull an alarm.

Not realizing this, the husband ran back through the fire in search of his wife, barely managing to escape down the stairs.

Kellogg was removed to the Lawrence Memorial Hospital. The children, Harvey Kellogg, Jr., four, Judith, three, and Lorraine, 16 months, were carried safely down a ladder by firemen.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Porter, occupants of the first-floor apartment, and Mrs. Porter's father, A. P. English, were driven from their rooms by the smoke, although firemen confined the flames to the upper stories. Mrs. Porter saved a valuable Persian cat.

In Waltham, $1500 damage from fire, smoke and water resulted at a two-alarm blaze in an apartment building at Moody and Chestnut sts. Alarms were ordered by Chief Bertram A. Neal, but the fire was confined to the third-floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McKee.

Partly overcome by smoke, 65-year-old Roy Lee was led from the building and cared for by friends.

An unidentified sailor who spotted flames shooting from the basement windows of a house in Hamilton st., Medford, was credited with warning two families in time for them to escape safely from the burning building.

The sailor not only shouted at the top of his voice, but hurled a stone through a downstairs window to awaken Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roberts, then ran next door to arouse neighbors, who called the fire department.

Mrs. Roberts carried out her 3-year-old daughter, Barbara, while her husband aided Mrs. Roberts' mother, Mrs. Anna M. Koehler, 64, from her upstairs apartment.

Charles Koehler, 35, who also helped his mother down smoke-choked stairs, suffered leg bruises when he stumbled and fell.

NAVY SAILOR'S WIFE TRIES TO KILL SELF IN HUB HOTEL

Heartbroken over her sailor husband's request for a divorce, 22-year-old Ellen Kennedy of Norfolk, Va., today attempted to end her life by swallowing poison in her hotel room.

She was found unconscious in the bathroom by a hotel attendant entering to clean the room. Rushed to Massachusetts General Hospital she was given emergency treatment and officials said her condition was "good."

Before the desperate attempt, the young wife penned notes to her mother and several woman friends in Washington, and Oakland, Cal.

ARRIVED HERE TUESDAY

Her husband, Orvin S. Kennedy is stationed at the Navy yard. One letter revealed he had sent for her to come to Boston and she arrived Tuesday.

The first letter, dated Feb. 6, was addressed to "Mom and family." It read:

"When Kenny came over last night he asked for a divorce. I have done nothing to make him feel that way but I've failed somehow.

"I begged and pleaded with him and he is willing to reconsider but I don't really know how long he will feel that way.

"I am going to try so hard. You know I have no one outside of him to live for. I have him on such a high pedestal nothing can ever knock him off.

TOLD OF SUICIDE PLAN

"I mean NOTHING, because that has been proved to me.

"If he should ask me for a divorce again I'm not going to beg and plead with him as I did this time but just take the easiest way out, only this time I won't fail, I promise you."

Police said she had not explained the meaning of the phrase "only this time I won't fail," and said they did not know whether Mrs. Kennedy had made any previous attempt at suicide.

Concluding her long letter, she had written:

"Don't blame Kenny, it's not his fault. If he should leave me there would be enough cowardice about me to take the easiest way out. I wouldn't be any good to myself or anyone else."

ANOTHER LETTER HOME

In another letter to her mother, dated Feb. 6 at 8 p. m., the girl told of her happiness with her husband and gave no inkling of her intentions.

"I'm so very happy to be with him. We are getting along very nicely and I'm a very lucky girl to have such a wonderful husband," she wrote.

Police listed the case as attempted suicide by self-administration of poison.

MAYRIS CHANEY

Miss Chaney Asks Dance Job Probe

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7 (INS)—Mayris Chaney, blonde Philadelphia dancer and friend of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, today declared she would welcome a congressional investigation of her appointment as a $46,00-a-year OCD worker.

Furthermore, she said, she has been working for two months and hasn't received a cent yet. Her appointment, which stirred congressional wrath, was made by John B. Kelly, national director of physical fitness, and not by the President's wife, she emphasized.

"Just because people are in show business doesn't mean they aren't capable," the dancer said in defending her appointment as director of children's activities.

"I have been visiting day nurseries, kindergartens and schools for crippled children; doing research and drawing plans."

It is incorrect, she said, to refer to her as a "protege" of Mrs. Roosevelt.

"We are merely friends," she explained.

"I don't understand what all the uproar is about," she added. "With my background of dancing, and the calisthenics which go with it, I believe I am qualified.

"I suppose Mr. Kelly thought so too, or he wouldn't have appointed me.

"I have been dancing since I was four. I have a thorough grounding in the strenuous exercises which go with the career of a dancer. I also have some ideas about mass physical exercise, which I believe could be used to advantage in this war emergency."

Kelly refused to be dragged into the fight, issuing a statement which simply declared:

"She has been working for approximately two months. The direction of her efforts has been toward developing a program of physical instruction that will improve the condition of the preschool group."

"PHILIPPINE THEATER—Concealed enemy batteries near the southeastern shore of Manila bay bombarded our harbor defenses with heavy artillery for three hours.

"Most of the fire was concentrated on Fort Drum, but some was directed against Fort Mills and Fort Hughes. No material damage was done. Our guns returned the fire with undetermined results.

"It has been determined that Lieut.-Gen. Susumu Morioka is in command of Japanese forces in Manila and on the Cavite shore of Manila bay.

"There was little infantry action on Bataan peninsula during the past 24 hours, but enemy artillery fire was heavy.

"Hostile dive bombers were active over our lines. Two of our fighter planes engaged four enemy dive bombers, shooting down one of them. Neither of our planes was damaged.

"NETHERLANDS INDIES—Eight American P-40 pursuit planes were attacked by a greatly superior force of Japanese fighters and bombers near Bali. At least three enemy planes were shot down. One of our planes was destroyed and another is missing.

Borneo's west coast. A direct hit was obtained with one heavy bomb, while a second bomb grazed the hull and exploded in the water next to the vessel. The ship immediately started to list and was sinking when last seen.

"In a Netherlands Indies harbor a ship of the Royal Netherlands navy and a merchant ship were bombed by Japanese aircraft. Not one of the 55 bombs that were dropped hit its target. A Netherlands destroyer was attacked in Netherlands Indies territorial waters by seven hostile aircraft which, however, did not manage to score any successes. The warship did not sustain any damage or losses.

"The navy commander has been informed that an enemy cruiser was sunk during an attack in the waters near Amboina, while one other cruiser and a submarine were hit. It was not possible to observe whether these two ships sank. Further reports concerning this attack are being awaited.

"Further reports of the fighting on Amboina prove that the Japanese attacked the island with far superior forces, but that here and there guerrilla activity against the enemy is still continuing. The greater part of the island is practically in Japanese hands. Part of the garrison managed to leave the island. More reports are being awaited.

"An airdrome on Bali has been bombed, but with little material damage. A bombing attack on Macassar had little effect. Furthermore some activity took place over dispersed objectives, also with little success to the Japanese.

"It is now certain that Pontianak has been completely occupied by the Japanese."

Announcement of latest developments in the fighting centering around the Netherlands Indies followed indications of an imminent attempted invasion of Java, headquarters of the United Nations Pacific forces and a natural bulls-eye of the Japanese aggressive effort.

"These appeals have occasioned considerable amusement for the troops.

"A radio broadcast addressed to Gen. MacArthur was made by Emilia Aguinaldo from Manila. Aguinaldo, who led the revolution against the United States in 1899, is apparently being put forward by the Japanese as a sort of Philippine Quisling. He urged immediate surrender. The appeal was ignored by Gen. MacArthur."

A short, slight, strutting, pock-marked, 72-year-old reminder of turmoil in the islands at the turn of the century, Aguinaldo lived in feudal grandeur amid bodyguards, servants and family retainers at his estate near Manila for 40 years.

For 40 years he kept his solemn oath not to engage in subversive activities against the United States or the Philippine commonwealth; but Manila knew he always nursed the idea of being head of an independent state.

He was a silent, solemn figure at such state occasions as inaugurations or sessions of the territorial legislature, but took little part in public life.

Allies to Land In Norway, Berlin Hears

ENEMY REPORT

BERLIN (From German broadcasts), Feb. 7 (AP)—German newspapers carried a lengthy report today from Stockholm that Prime Minister Churchill is laying plans for a large scale landing operation on the Norwegian coast, and hopes to have the support of the United States fleet.

The dispatch, circulated by a semi-official German news agency, said the British Prime Minister was expected to inform the House of Commons of the plan in a secret session soon and request approval of the hazards of such an undertaking.

JOINING UP IS EASY

Enrollment in the Junior Victory Army is open to all boys and girls not less than 10 nor more than 18 years of age.

To enlist they simply fill out the membership coupon appearing near this story and follow its instructions. Those who send a ten-cent coin (well wrapped) with their enrollment blank will receive an attractive red, white and blue insignia pin to wear on their coat, blouse or cap. DO NOT stick the coin to the coupon. Simply wrap it in a wad of paper and enclose with the blank filled out in an envelope.

It is not necessary to obtain one of these pins to be a member, however. You can enroll by simply filling out the coupon and forwarding it. The 10 cents for the pin merely covers the cost of materials, handling and mailing.

PINS READY SOON

The pins will be ready for distribution soon. Letters from new members show how anxious they are to get these pins. They are asked to be patient for just a little while.

All present members are urged to tell their friends about this new organization and are invited to keep reading the Junior Victory Army news appearing every day in the Evening American, the Daily Record and the Sunday Advertiser.

The 32nd anniversary of the Boy Scouts is being observed now as Boy Scout Week and Junior Army news will tell about the interesting activities of Boy Scouts who are serving as couriers and doing other important defense work.

LUNN IS NAMED

Herbert W. Lunn of Melrose has been named assistant scout executive, Boston Council, Boy Scouts, to have supervision of field activities and public relations. He has had 26 years' experience in scouting, 12 of them in a professional capacity.

Lunn was scout executive at Gardner in 1922, at Pittsfield in 1925 and at Perth Amboy, N. J. between 1926 and 1933.

For five years he has been a member of the national committee on badges and awards and director of training courses in scouting, sea scouting and cubbing.

A hearty send-off for the Junior Victory Army and praise for its purposes has been given by "Bill" Mullen, director of recreation, Boston Park Dept., long a prominent leader of activities for children and youths.

ENDORSES PLAN

Mullen writes:

"Having been identified with the Sunday Advertiser-Record-American for many years in conducting the Easter Egg Hunt and the Silver Skates Derby, it did not surprise me when I read of your Junior Victory Army.

"I think this understanding balances the recreational side of Similar good will is expressed in a letter from Clifford S. Brauer, District No. 1 defense chairman, A. Z. A., junior B'nai B'rith organization. His letter reads:

"The largest Jewish youth organization in America, A. Z. A., Junior B'nai B'rith heartily endorses the program of the Junior Victory Army and pledges its full co-operation and support in the endeavor."

Cardinal Aids Fund Drive

Still $1,000,000 away from the goal of $7,600,000 the Greater Boston United War Fund campaign today entered its final stages with an appeal from Maynard Hutchinson, general chairman, for a supreme effort on the part of 30,000 volunteer workers.

In a letter to all the clergy of the archdiocese Cardinal O'Connell urged that parishioners be appealed to over the week-end for further unstinting air during the remaining four days of solicitation.

Lt. Concannon, Sleuth in D. A. Office, Dies

One of Boston's most highly respected police officers, Lieut. Inspector James F. Concannon, attached to the office of Dist. Atty. William J. Foley for 11 years, died today after an illness of six months.

Personally selected by Foley, Concannon became one of the most widely known detectives in the East. His work was frequently commended by enforcement officials of other cities as well as by Foley and Boston police heads.

He was born in South Boston March 25, 1875, and was appointed a patrolman at Brighton station on July 24, 1905. For many years he was active in rounding up gangs of pickpockets and confidence men.

He was appointed to Foley's staff July 8, 1930, and had helped solve many baffling crimes.

He leaves two sons, Francis, clerk in the office of Superior Clerk Thomas Dorgan, and Patrolman James V., of Charlestown station; and a daughter, Mrs. Esther Porter.

HITLER'S WAR ON RELIGION

Blitz on Church Seen Worst Nazi Mistake

By FRAU ELISABETH MEYER

In his furious blitzkrieg against religion in Germany, Adolf Hitler has suffered his greatest loss of the war. He has defeated the very purpose of his persecution, which was to strike terror into the hearts of those of all faiths, and to create hostility between these faiths.

The vicious tyranny of his Gestapo has consolidated all religions as no milder method could have achieved. Catholics, Protestants and Jews have united in a spiritual front, pledged to the death to preserve the ideals and the standards of all who believe in God and seek to obey His commandments.

There have been brave voices silenced in death, stifled in prisons and concentration camps, but other voices have thundered throughout the world, arousing a realization of the outrages against all religion in Germany.

I have described the valiant stand of great churchmen of all faiths—such Protestant clergymen as Pastor Niemoller, such Catholics as Bishop Galen and Cardinal Faulhaber, and Jewish leaders, many of them exiles, who have raised their voices in defiance of Hitler's godless program.

Free-minded Germans through the famed underground radio continue, in the very teeth of death, to protest Nazi oppression. Their voices will be heard to the end.

JOIN IN COMMON PRAYER

In their mutual crisis of oppression, Catholics have prayed for Protestants, Christians and Jews for each other.

It is my firm conviction that never before in Germany has there been such union among all believers. The intolerance of other days is gone. German believers are welded into a common cause.

Religion cannot be "liquidated." Men will die for faith, and the faith lives on.

The chief danger of the Fuehrer's war on religion in Germany has been the menace to children, most of them deprived of all opportunity to study or practice the faith of their fathers, exposed to the Nazi ideology which sets the Fuehrer and the State above all authority.

Many of them, disillusioned by false promises of world conquest, are beginning to question the leaders who had assured them they would inherit the earth. Returned wounded soldiers, mere boys when they set forth with such assurance and hope, have gained new insight into world conditions.

They have learned, above all, of the contempt with which the Nazis are held in those countries where freedom is held dearer than life.

DREAMS COLLAPSE

These returning soldiers, as they lie on their hospital cots, shattered in body, have time to think. This is dangerous to the Nazi program for there is no answer that even the Nazis can give to a soldier whose dream has collapsed.

Although it is sadly true that most young people are pledged to the Nazi paganism, it is my belief that this is but a temporary condition. Sooner or later, defeat will bring disillusion. It is my conviction that defeat is on the way.

Hitler, who has violated Sunday by launching on that day his most brutal aggressions, made two fatal mistakes on this date.

There was the Sunday when his legions marched into Russia.

There was the Sunday when, under his direction and by his order, the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

NAZI DOOM SEALED

The invasion of Russia has resulted in his greatest military setback—a defeat which may cause his much-vaunted world kingdom to crumble into dust.

The attaack on Pearl Harbor brought into deadly battle against him the United States of America, greatest stronghold of freedom in this world today, the nation whose enmity, for all his arrogant boasting, he has secretly dreaded, and with good reason, beyond all others.

In his war on the world, as in his war on religion, Adolf Hitler must fail. However he consults the stars, he cannot escape his doom. For his doom is already written in the hearts and in the souls of free men.

Romance

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

My problem is an erring husband who thinks he is still young. My three grown children are married. My trouble is that my husband spends his time and money on other women. He will not tell me what he makes, but lies continually about all things. When drinking, he beats me. We are in the 60's and I'm ashamed of the way I've been forced to talk to him. I won't even tell my children.

My husband has been this way for 20 years, while I have tried to cover up. Even attorneys have not been able to change his conduct. He has squandered my inheritance.

Is it wise to leave him at my age? He says he hates me, but insists we live together just for looks and for his protection. I do not respect him, but am lonely when he is gone and am at my wit's end to know what to do, as I must have his support. UNDECIDED.

It seems to me you've been shadow-boxing with this situation too long. Why not call a family counsel and see what your three married children have to say about this state of affairs and if they cannot awaken in their father a greater sense of decency?

When a man tells his wife he hates her but wants her to remain with him for the sake of appearances, not much can be expected of such a husband.

Your Wedding Can Be the Perfect One

Weddings are in the air these days! And even if wartime does hasten your preparations, yours can be as correct and lovely as you've always dreamed. Just know the custom-hallowed rules

Which shall it be—formal or informal? A large formal wedding takes longer to prepare. You wear a traditional bridal gown and veil and carry a bouquet or prayerbook.

All details are in the same formal key. For instance, engraved invitations are sent, which are ordered two to four weeks beforehand.

Though informal weddings mean less to do, they're lovely too when correctly done. For a small daytime wedding, you may indulge in a really gorgeous suit, a smart hat, gloves and corsage. You invite guests by personal note.

Or you may have an informal wedding in the evening — look charming in a white dress and short veil!

Other important points you want to know ahead of time are how the bride's family and groom divide expenses.

Our 40-page booklet, "How to Plan Your Wedding," answers all your questions about who pays for what; tells etiquette for ceremony and reception, correct dress, what to serve. Explains duties of attendants, guests.

Send 15 cents (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) for our booklet, "How to Plan Your Wedding," to Boston Evening American Home Institute, 109 West 19th st., New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Good Manners

Couples in Formal Clothes Walk Together in Hotels

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

WHEN a group of men and women dressed in formal attire enter a hotel, do they walk in couples or do the men walk together and the women together?

2—When the headwaiter leads the party to their reserved table, in what order do they follow the headwaiter?

3—Do the waiters or the ladies' escorts hold the chairs for the ladies?

4—If courses are served during the floor show, do the diners continue eating?

5—Should the waiter be tipped generously first to insure good service, or when the bill is paid?

6—Is the bill paid at the table? If not, where?

7—In a party of six—three couples—does one man pay the bill (even though each couple is to pay their own expenses), or should each one pay? V. E.

1—The group entering the hotel would walk in couples.

2—The women follow the headwaiter and the men follow the women.

3—The escorts hold the chairs for the ladies, as they would do if the dinner were being given in a home.

4—When there is a floor show in a restaurant, the diners continue eating if they wish to.

5—Usually the tip is given to the waiter when the check is paid. However, sometimes the host tips the head waiter first.

6—In most restaurants the check is paid at the table.

7—Usually it is less confusing if one man pays the check and later collects from the other men. But this must be decided beforehand, and according to the convenience of the group.

Icy Highways Peril Scores, 6 Badly Hurt

Rain, driven by a strong wind, eased the burden on highway crews today as they labored to remove the remnants of slushy snow.

Early in the day a glaze of ice which coated highways caused scores of accidents, one resulting in serious injury to six.

In the most serious accident, six persons were taken to Milton Hospital after their machine skidded and struck a tree on Randolph ave, Milton.

The injured, all reported in critical condition, were:

Anthony Posato, 24, Anderson st., West End; Karl Hassis, 33, E. First st., South Boston; Francis McKenna 34, Temple st., West End; Ellen Clasby, 28, Whitman st., Dorchester; Margaret Dyer, 34, Huntington ave., Back Bay, and Rita Duffy, 23, Mountfort st., Back Bay.

Highway crews numbering more than 2000 men and 400 sanding trucks were out at an early hour on Worcester Newburyport turnpikes.

Downtown traffic waas snarled aas cars moved at snail's pace because of poor visibility.

Rain with winds between 35 and 40 miles an hour will continue tonight with temperatures remaining above freezing, the forecaster said.

'Magic Flute' Opera in English

It was no less an eminent Mozartian authority than Bruno Walter, himself, who insisted that the "Magic Flute," which comes to the Metropolitan on Friday evening, March 20, during the current 10-day engagement of the Metropolitan Opera Co., be performed this year in the new English translation, the result of the collaboration of two young musicians, Ruth Kelley Martin and her husband, Thomas Phillip Martin.

It is interesting to note that at the time of the premiere of "The Magic Flute," which took place at the Old Park Theater in New York in 1833, this great opera was sung in an English translation.

Mr. Walter considered the Martins' version much superior, and it was this one which caused such excitement in New York when it was produced there the past month.

The Martins were prompted to translate "Die Zauberflote," an opera which, since its first performance, has been one of the most popular in the entire European repertory because the musical parts are connected by considerable spoken dialogue, and they felt that only through translation could American audiences fully understand and appreciate this fantastic fairy tale.

Appearing in leading roles in "The Magic Flute" will be Mmes. Conner, Bok, Andreva, Steber, Stellman, Farell, Paulee. Olheim, Kaskas, and Messrs. Kullman, Kipnis, Harrell, Schorr, Laufkoetter, Dudley, Darcy, Gurney, D'Angelo. Bruno Walter will conduct.

DUCHIN'S HIGH-CLASS SHOW BRINGS CHEERS FROM RKO BOSTON AUDIENCES

Talent Aplenty With Orchestra

By PEGGY DOYLE

Eddy Duchin, who looks like a Noel Coward character and plays like nobody else, assisted by his slick orchestra and a variety of smart specialty acts is giving RKO Boston audiences the time of their lives for four shows a day this week.

In the Duchin manner has long been the password to surefire entertainment for Manhattan music-lovers. Ritz Roof habitues are partial in the extreme to the Duchin piano-playing and persuasive m.c'ing.

Yesterday, M. Duchin and his boys and girls took over the RKO Boston stage to prove the universality of good music and good showmanship. Something slightly less than pandemonium broke loose when Duchin announced one of the outfit's specialties, "The Shrine of St. Cecilia," with Johnny Drake baritoning.

• • •

Drake soloed also with "Everything I Love" and the customers loved that, too. Next on the program is that sensational young brother-and-sister act, Tom and Betty Wonder, a lean, rangy, good-looking twosome pleasant to look at if they could only walk across the stage. Actually these fugitives from the musical shows, have everything to make a star dance team.

June Robbins, the band's pretty vocalist, is another in the top brackets. Her specialty numbers are "I-A in the Army," "Blues in the Night," "Old Man Mose" and, assisted by the handlebar-mustached Bill Hethcock, "I said No."

Duchin's comedian-trumpeter, Lew Sherwood, singing "Sammy, You Made the Pants Too Long," clicked 100 per cent. His "Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree" and "Rose O'Day" were other solo show-stoppers.

• • •

Bob Nella does a trick Bergen-McCarthy act that has some nice touches and plenty of laughs. Tenor Tony Leonard, who with the orchestra recently made a recording of "In Old Brazil," sang this favorite of Rio de Janeiro's Copacabana set. Obviously the Duchin orchestra's three-month engagement in Rio last summer was musically as well as financially profitable.

Something new and cute in knockabout acts is offered by Jean, Jack and Judy, two attractive girls and a nice-looking lad, who blend a bit of witty persiflage with their perilous pyramiding. Nice going, kids.

Duchin, happily for the pew-holders, reserves the next-to-closing spot to solo at the keys with a symposium including "The Man I Love," "'Tis Autumn," "Chattanooga Choo-Choo" and "You Made Me Love You."

For screen fare, there is "Two Latins from Manhattan," with the very funny Joan Davis and the too pretty Jinx Falkenburg.

Show's the Thing

KATHIE, the little waitress at Karlburg's Inn of the Three Apples who loved and lost a prince. Barbara Scully plays her in "The Student Prince," which opens its second and final week on the Shubert's stage on Monday evening.

BETTY FURNESS, as Ruth, the other sister of "My Sister Eileen," is entrusted with some of the brightest lines in the Wilbur's comedy hit. It is now in its last weeks.

FAMILIAR to countless, admiring film-fans who saw her in "Gone With the Wind" and "All This and Heaven, Too," handsome Barbara O'Neil is to be seen on the Plymouth stage, beginning Feb. 16, when "Under This Roof" opens a one-week engagement.

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—How'ja like to be as scintillatingly alluring as any "favorite of the harem?" Arline Gould tells an extraordinary tale of an extraordinary perfume today!

EXTRAORDINARY PERFUME ONLY AWAITS YOUR ORDER

By ARLINE GOULD

IF YOU NEED ANY assurance that when it comes to all-out feminine allure, the stratosphere is too low to be the limit . . . you'll be intrigued to know that there is a $100 an ounce perfume in existence. There are some women who have discovered that there's reward in its dangerous voluptuousness . . . they belong to the select minority which knows of this jasmine scent from Egypt.

In only one shop in Boston is it available . . . and that strictly on order. However, you can buy a "small" six eof it, by ordering; something like $20 or $30, we believe . . . we get hazy on figures when a perfume price clambers over $10. The quantity is so limited that we can't even guarantee you'll get any for your 30 bucks at this moment, but you can TRY! One woman in Boston buys it. Yes, we'd like to know who she is, too!

This perfume, jasmine from Egypt, is just one step short of the absolute essence pressed from the tiny star-shaped jasmine blossoms (the most heavily scented of all jasmine) which have for centuries made nights on the Nile the subject of unnumbered romantic outpourings.

The precious scent is encased in the hollow center of a squared-off hunk of crystal which looks as if Cleopatra's slaves might have mined and polished it. Wax seals, raffia and Egyptian linen hold in the fragrance.

In addition to being the most expensive perfume, this one breaks other precedents. You can't, for instance, buy just an ounce of the perfume. You buy whatever is in the bottle, paying fractionally for perhaps an ounce and a 10th or perhaps seven-eighths of an ounce, depending on what each hand-carved bottle holds when the artisan finished.

Naturally, the background fo this fragrance should be and is as old as the pyramids. This scent of jasmine has always been the prerogative of the favorite of the harem . . . just plain, frank out and out allure.

To learn about this unique perfume, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

• FOOD •

By Martha Lee

EXPERTS IN HOUSEHOLD management agree that oven-cooking is an efficient way of preparing a supply of food in a comparatively short time and is an economy of time, effort and fuel well worth putting into practice today when war-time activities of one kind or another have been added to the homemaker's many regular duties.

Just as everyone now wants to get maximum value out of all food, so should the homemaker cooking with a gas range plan to get every bit of value out of every bit of fuel she uses. Substantial economies may be effected through oven-cooking as follows:

1—Have food ready for baking by the time the oven is preheated to the wanted temperature. Meats can be started in the cold oven and make use of the preheating period.

2—If the range is not equipped with an automatic oven heat control, the use of a reliable oven thermometer of standard make is recommended—for it is an economy of food, time and fuel to bake at known temperature instead of guessing at the oven heat. Place thermometer on rack as near center of oven as possible, but check in two to three minutes before putting food in to bake to be sure the desired temperature has been maintained.

HOW TO SAVE FUEL

3—Keep the oven door closed during baking and break the habit of "peeking." This prevents even browning of foods, cools the oven and wastes gas. Many degrees of heat may be lost every time the door is opened.

4—Save fuel by a succession of bakings, starting with food requiring highest temperature and finishing with that requiring lowest; this plan eliminates several preheatings of the oven. After baking a pastry shell, bake a cake, then cookies, then an oven meal, plus baked or stewed fruit, a pudding or loaf of quick bread—all of which may be used with other meals.

5—Plan the oven meal around meat, poultry, fish or substitute main dish. Accompanying foods must be chosen for the same baking temperature. Oven-cook vegetables requiring a longer cooking time than the fresh tender young vegetables

6—Add various foods during the oven meal baking in a succession, based on their respective cooking times. Ordinarily, the meat takes longest.

7—The best cakes to bake with oven meals are upside-down and Dutch apple cake types, and certain moist spice cakes; and in short-time oven meals baked at high temperature, cupcakes may be baked too. Delicate layer and loaf cakes turn soggy if baked with foods at the same time.

MENU

Roast Leg of Lamb
Gravy
Franconia Potatoes
Yellow Turnip
Mixed Green Salad
Pineapple Upside-Down Cake
Coffee

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

1-3 cup vegetable shortening
¼ tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
½ cup sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
1½ tsp. baking powder
1¼ cups sifted flour
½ cup canned pineapple juice
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
5 slices canned pineapple
5 maraschino cherries (optional)

Combine shortening, salt, and vanilla; add sugar gradually and cream well. Add egg and beat thoroughly. Add baking powder to flour and sift 3 times. Add small amounts of flour to creamed mixture, alternately with pineapple juice, mixing after each addition until smooth. Sprinkle brown sugar on bottom of 8x8-inch pan greased liberally. Arrange pineapple on sugar, put cherries in center of slices, and pour batter over all. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 50 to 60 minutes. Serve upside down with whipped cream. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

BAKE a Pineapple Upside-Down Cake with oven meal.

GOOD MANNERS AT HOME

It's just as important to open the door for your mother or pick up an article your sister drops at home as to perform such courtesies in public. You can't have good manners in the presence of your friends if your home manners are bad.

Fashion

ECONOMY GOES hand-in-hand with Defense . . . so how about manaking your own heavy duty uniform? Here's an all-in-one work uniform, a design suggested by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Home Economic Bureau. Even if you've never sewed a stitch before, you can turn out smartly looking work clothes (how about denim culottes and tailored jacket for that HARD work you do on the beach, picking up shells and tramping on the sand!) just by spending a few hours at your local sewing center where they give free instructions in making all types of defense uniforms or work clothes. Nowadays, professional finishes are easy for beginners, what with all the new attachment gadgets.—ANNICE BRINK.

THIS BLACKOUT COAT SERVES DAYTIME PURPOSE AS WELL

By BETTINA BE WELL

NO SOONER did war come than designers put their master minds to the problems of wartime styles, and as in France in the first months of the war, there are loads of special clothes designed, clothes for air raid use, clothes for blackouts, clothes for defense work, etc. Most of them are very special, and won't get far in general styles, I think.

One notable exception is a blackout coat that is also a knockout, and that many women are going to want to wear in the daylight. It was designed by Handley Cross, a designer who is a refugee from Vienna, and who has been making a success here for more than a year.

Miss Dulin has sketched this coat for you. It is made of black camel's hair wool, and that, my friends, is wool with real beauty—soft, light and lustrous. Loose in cut, the coat closes double-breasted fashion on very large, silver-dollar size white pearl buttons will be visible in a blacked out street, and safeguard the wearer against collisions.

Labor Problem Worries Farmers

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT
National Woman Director of Civilian Defense

ARTHURDALE, W. Va., Friday—While I was in Chicago between trains yesterday morning I spent an hour breakfasting with our civilian defense regional director, Maj. Raymond J. Kelly and members of the local defense council, headed by Mayor Kelly. They are very individual in Chicago and have set up a block system, whereby an organizer is appointed who calls a meeting of the block.

Those present elect the air raid warden, and he or she appoints his assistants. This seems a very democratic form of procedure and, for the protective services, should work out very well. Just how the volunteer community services are to work in this scheme is still a little hazy in my mind.

I was assured, however, that their district offices would be responsible for the channelling of volunteers to appropriate community services. They begged me to wait until they were functioning a little better before making any criticism of the present setup which they feel sure is going to prove satisfactory. I certainly hope they are right, because they are quite evidently doing a good organization job on the protective and medical services.

TWO HOURS on the train brought us to Champaign, Ill., at 11:30. I went to a press conference, a luncheon at the University Women's Club, followed by a question period on the work of women in defense, and then a meeting in the big gymnasium of several thousand people attending the 41st conference of Farm and Home Week.

This Farm and Home Week at the University of Illinois, reminded me very much of the annual Farm and Home Week with which I am familiar at Cornell University in New York State.

The fact that they had comparatively little snow must make the attendance of farmers and their families a little easier, but on the other hand, tire-rationing must keep many people away. I was glad we had a twenty-minute question period after my talk, for it showed a great interest on the part of rural people in their responsibility for the conduct of the war. Their chief trouble, of course, is the fear of a labor shortage in farm areas.

BEFORE LEAVING, I spent an hour with the local defense council representing four adjacent counties as well as the cities of Champaign and Urbana. They have a civilian defense volunteer office which is functioning very well. There is evidently a great deal of interest on the part of all the representatives on the defense council, who are doing a good job.

Mrs. Helm joined us in Champaign and we had a pleasant dinner on the train. We changed trains in Chicago, and are now nearing Connellsville, W. Va., from where we drive to Arthurdale.

Smart Set Functions

Today three youthful socialite couples are happily assuming matrimonial honors, even though none of them can look far enough ahead to plan their future homes.

The real lace hanky, which was carried by the late Mrs. George W. Allen of St. Louis at her marriage years ago, has been taken out of the family treasure chest to form the piece de resistance of her granddaughter's bridal costume this afternoon . . . The bride is Clare Elizabeth Haskins of Cambridge, daughter of Mrs. Charles Homer Haskins and the late Prof. Haskins . . . Clare becomes the wife of David Edgerley Gates of Rosemont, Pa., son of Mrs. George Stevens of Elyria, O., and the late William H. Gates, at a 4 o'clock ceremony in Christ Church, Cambridge.

THE BRIDE DESIGNED her own wedding gown, which is a lovely model of ivory satin made with a long fan-shaped train, fitted bodice and long sleeves . . . The gown has a deep net yoke, forming an off-the-shoulder neckline and outlined with pearls where the net and satin meet . . . Rose point lace from her mother's wedding costume is attached to the shoulders in back and falls like a mantle over the long train . . . Over this is a fingertip tulle veil attached to Grandmother Allen's hanky, which is fashioned into a simple four-cornered "Queen's crown" . . . a bouquet of small calla lilies completes the bride's picturesque costume . . .

Joanna Bard of Santa Barbara and New York, a Vassar classmate of the bride, is maid of honor . . . The bridesmaids are Mrs. William Morris Hunt of Milton, Mrs. Robert Hatch of Arlington and Rosemary Messner of Rochester, N. Y. . . . Miss Bard is wearing a gown of jonquil yellow taffeta with a net yoke edged with yellow ruching . . . In her hair is a coronet of yellow ruching tied in back with taffeta ribbons and she is carrying a bouquet of iris and jonquils . . . The bridesmaids are wearing similar costumes of larkspur blue . . .

GOING RIGHT AHEAD with their wedding plans in spite of the war are Sally Lawrence and Ensign William Fleming Shaw who are being married this afternoon at Christ Church Cathedral, Springfield . . . Daughter of Bishop and Mrs. William Lawrence, Sally comes from a long line of distinguished clergymen—her grandfather was the late Bishop Lawrence of Milton . . .

The bride's father is performing the ceremony and her brother, William Lawrence 2d, is giving her in marriage . . . She is wearing the wedding gown belonging to her sister Susie (Mrs. John N. Hazard) of Providence . . . The attendants are all gowned in taffeta and tulle in shades of old blue and rose . . . They are Elizabeth and Nancy Lawrence, sisters of the bride; Rosalinde Shaw, Sally Ann Wing and Virginia Trott.

MESSES OF POTTAGE

By ELSIE ROBINSON

ESAU—thousands of years it is since that happy-go-lucky redhead hunted the plains from Havilah to Shur, slept in wolf dens, came shouting, through the dawn, to brother Jacob's tent.

Yet you grin today as you read his story—feeling him so near and real, so like yourself! Mightn't you, too, have done the same if you had been as hungry?

Hungry! Seemed as if big Esau was always hungry. Plenty of antelope in the deep, wild grasses . . . fat, gray geese on the glimmering pools. But deer and geese can outflash the swiftest arrow. So, though he was the mightiest hunter of his tribe, red Esau often carried an empty belly under his hairy hide.

And never was it emptier than this morning, when the fat savor of Jacob's cooking came drifting down the sharp, cold air. He stopped, sniffed greedily. Um-m-m, it was good! Jacob—poor, tame thing Esau thought him, usually. But he certainly could cook!

WELL, just what would he give? It was pale Jacob bargaining, a moment later, his shrewd hand gripped tight upon the pot's lid. Just what would Esau give in return for the pottage?

Esau's big, good natured face gaped with amazement. A queer thing this, holding up a hungry man and that man his own brother! He lunged indignantly, but nimble Jacob outleaped him, the pot still firm within his grasp.

Hungry? Then let him pay for his filling. There was, for instance, that bit of land Jacob had long coveted—those flocks of sheep. They were to be sure, the older brother's birthright. But what did a great hunter need of earth or cattle? Craftily he tilted the pot's lid, let the rich odor gush out.

Esau's hairy, jowls slavered, ravenous as any wolf. Jacob was right—what did a hunter need of soil? Besides, he was dying—he knew he was dying! No man could long survive such starvation. What good would a heritage be to a dead man? If Jacob—timid tent tender—wanted the stuff, let him have it!

JACOB'S pale eyes gleamed. Did he really mean it? Would he swear? Esau roared contemptuous answer—grabbed the pot. The sound of his contented grunting filled the tent.

Stupid, greedy Esau, wasting his heritage for red lentil stew! But are we, after all these centuries, so much smarter? Hunger licked Esau. Laziness, self-indulgence, cowardice and conceit lick us.

How much discomfort or danger will you and I endure, if we can find a way out? How much monotony or loneliness? He swapped his birthright for a steaming pot. We give ours to the shining gadgets of a machine age—that's the only difference.

BUT WHAT BECOMES OF OUR BIRTHRIGHT OF COURAGE AND INITIATIVE WHEN THE MACHINES TAKE OVER THE JOB? WHAT HAPPENS TO THE MUSCLES WHICH WERE MEANT TO BE LEAN, SWIFT, TOUGH? WHAT BECOMES OF THE MIND WHICH WAS INTENDED TO BE LIVELY AND ALERT? WHAT PRICE OUR MODERN MESSES OF POTTAGE?

Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Saturday, Feb. 7, 1942.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—You of this birthdate are likeable and fond of the good things in life although not always sufficiently ambitious to work for them. Much talent and genuine ability inherent. A too-easy attitude should be corrected before it becomes a part of you. Otherwise you may not attain the success of which you are so capable. Need encouragement, religious development. Have no fear of the future IF you take care of things rightly now. Keep a clear eye, a cool head!

LUCKY NUMBER—Today's lucky number is 96.

LUCKY COLOR—Today's lucky color is gray.

Betty Neilson Bride Today

Wearing an old fashioned gown of cream moire, with a high round neckline, train and long sleeves, Elizabeth Anne (Betty) Neilson is being married to Ensign Albert F. Gallatin, U. S. N. R., in Leslie Lindsey Memorial Chapel this afternoon Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. Neilson of Chestnut Hill, Betty is a graduate of Beaver Country Day and belongs to the Junior League and Vincent Club.

The wedding is very much of a family affair, with a small reception at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sargent, 30 The Fenway. Gail Neilson is her sister's only attendant and James Gallatin best man.

Completing the bride's outfit is a long tulle veil edged with family heirloom rose point, and attached to her hair with a cluster of orange blossoms. Her bouquet is a small old fashioned one of camellias and freesia.

Gail, who is noted for achieving unusual sartorial effects, is wearing a lovely gown of greige crepe with a headdress of fresh pink lilies whose petals are striped with white. These lilies also form her unusual cascade bouquet.

Both Mrs. Neilson and Mrs. Albert Gallatin, mother of the bridegroom, are wearing modish black street length gowns, with springlike white hats and colorful corsages of red and white camellias.

MANPOWER CONTROL PLAN TAKES FORM

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Creation of a manpower control administration, which could apportion Americans as needed among factory, farm and firing line, was under study here today.

Some well-placed sources said an executive order might come from the White House within the month setting up a policy body to determine which citizens should keep on producing food and weapons and which should be enrolled for military service.

Sidney Hillman, head of the War Production Board's labor division, was mentioned as a likely choice to head the proposed agency.

As co-director of the now-defunct Office of Production anagement he has been credited with the success in training skilled workers, foremen and "lead men" in sufficient numbers to keep ahead of the dizzily expanding labor demand in shipyards, mills and factories. But there was no evidence that Hillman planned to leave the labor division which he has headed since its inception.

Some officials have spoken guardedly of the eventual necessity for an agency which could direct selective service registrants into other than military service.

Some such moves are under way already. The National Selective Service System has reported that some time after the Feb. 16 registration, it will send questionnaires to men already registered, for additional data on their vocational training and experience.

Devens Has Concentration Camp Ready

FT. DEVENS, Feb. 7 (AP)—Near the shore of a pond where summer vacationists once frolicked, New England's only concentration camp has virtually been completed.

Located in the heart of this cantonment, about a mile from the main gate, the barbed wire enclosure has a capacity of more than 2000 inmates.

Most of the construction work was rushed to completion by round-the-clock shifts within a week after the outbreak of war, but only recently six tall lookout towers have been erected.

The internment area is approximately 800 feet by 400 feet, bordered by heavy barbed wire in two parallel rows about 10 feet apart.

Inside the fence are approximately 300 tent frames, each with accommodations for six persons.

Army veterans said the tent frames, when covered with canvas and equipped with cone-shaped stoves set in sand, are comfortable in the coldest New England weather.

Gunman Gets Dime After Forcing Ride

Accosted by a gunman as she was parking her car near the Children's Hospital, Miss Ruth Furlong, 23, of Boylston st., Back Bay, a nurse, was forced to drive the man to Forest Hills sq. early today, then was robbed of a dime.

He pointed a gun at her as she drove to Forest Hills, the girl told police, yet did not seem surprised when she protested that she had only ten cents in her pocketbook since she was a nurse on her way to work.

"The dime's acceptable. Thank you very much," the bandit said as he fled from her car.

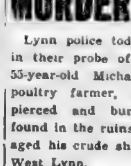
LYNN POLICE FAIL TO FIND MURDER CLUE

Lynn police today were baffled in their probe of the murder of 55-year-old Michael Baronowsky, poultry farmer, whose bullet-pierced and burned body was found in the ruins after fire damaged his crude shack in Canal st., West Lynn.

Baronowsky was at first thought to have died in the fire, but an examination by Assistant Medical Examiner Laurence F. Cusick and Dr. Alan Moritz, State pathologist, disclosed he was killed earlier by the close-range blast of a shotgun.



Dr. Alan Moritz

His body was discovered by Phillip Singer, a poultry dealer, of Blossom st., Lynn, when he visited the shack to negotiate a business deal. Firemen at the place the night previous had been unaware Baronowsky was inside.

Police said investigation showed the victim had sold a cow for $60 a few days previous to his death, suggesting the motive for the crime may have been robbery. They theorized the murderer then set the fire.

Last November, Baronowsky's wife was committed to the Foxboro State Hospital. The couple had owned two homes in Western ave., Lynn, and were considered well-off financially.

Stanley Cironis, brother-in-law of the victim, said he last saw Baronowsky on Jan. 29. Neither he nor a stepdaughter, Helen Kjell, could give any explanation for the crime, police said.

Clocks Move Ahead Monday

"War time" goes into effect on Monday at 2 a. m. At that hour all clocks in the nation will be moved one hour ahead to conform with the daylight saving act passed by Congress and designed to afford more daylight working hours to speed the war production program and to conserve on use of electricity.

You won't have to worry about missing trains either, for this time all train services will also change their time schedules. The railroads have promised that if you leave your home in time to take the 7 a. m. train you won't arrive at the station an hour before you left home, as has often been the case in the past.

So don't forget, before you go to bed Sunday night turn your clock one hour ahead.

U. S. Bomber Proves Tough

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 7 (AP)—An American-made Hudson (Lockheed) bomber defeated a Japanese fighter over the Bismarck Archipelago this week, after three members of its crew were wounded, its tank and fuselage damaged and its navigation instruments demolished.

Air Minister Arthur Drakeford said today the bomber, attached to the Australian Air Force, returned successfully to its base after badly damaging the enemy plane with a shot that exploded inside the Japanese craft.

The Hudson returned on one engine after soaring to 20,000 feet. The plane was on reconnaissance, checking Japanese ground movements in occupied areas of the islands.

NEWBURYPORT, Feb. 7—Two Portsmouth, N. H., Navy Yard workers, who allegedly twice drove onto a military reservation against orders, braving a fusilade of bullets and nearly running down a sentry, were convicted of liquor charges here today.

Georg W. Goodale, 34, of Biddeford, Me., was fined $40 for operating under the influence and $15, with sentence suspended, on a charge of drunkenness.

WAR MENUS PLANNED FOR DEFENSE AID

State health and defense officials worked today on a plan to "mobilize" housewives and cooks of Massachusetts, with pots and pans as their "weapons," to battle against undernourishment during the war period.

Hundreds of dietary experts met in a state nutrition conference at the Walker Memorial building. M. I. T., to outline a program for good health through proper food despite the possibility of wartime rationing.

J. Welles Farley

Dean John T. Bunker of the M. I. T. graduate school called malnutrition a "fifth columnist" on the home front while Director J. Welles Farley of the public safety committee warned delegates against "complacency."

"This beginning of rationing is only mild in relation to what it is going to be," Farley asserted. "Nine-tenths of the things you regard as necessities you will get in the future in only sparse quantities."

Many speakers advocated a program, through education and advertising, of instructing the public as to which foods are most economical and at the same time most nutritious. T. O. Armstrong, chairman of a round-table discussion, hotly criticized "hash house joints" near defense plants.

"Actually they are places which the men frequent on their dinner hour, get a meal slung at them, then drink beer and whiskey as the main course," he declared

Dr. Eda Robb, Simmons College home economist, presented a plan for conserving vitamins in the preparation and serving of food.

Draft Quiz Easy For Men 20-45

Men between 20 and 45 who register for selective service Feb 15 and 16 will get 11 over quick. They have only nine questions to answer, it was disclosed today by Lieut.-Col Ralph M. Smith, assistant state director.

There are no questionnaires to be filled out and the registrant need only answer questions while registrars jot down the answers on a green card. White and melon cards, respectively, were used for registration in the first and second drafts.

The nine questions are as follow: Name, place of residence, mailing address if different from residence, telephone number, age in years and date of birth, place of birth, name of person who will always know your address, employer's name and address and place of employment.

U. S. MAY SET RETAIL PRICE OF SUGAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP) — Price Administrator Leon Henderson said today the government was prepared to set maximum retail prices on suger "unless prices are voluntarily kept in bounds."

Consumers who find retail sugar prices more than one cent higher for a five-pound bag than prices were during the first week of December, 1941, should protest to storekeepers, Henderson added, commenting:

"Any increase much greater than that is profiteering pure and simple."

Since the United States entered the war, OPA has premitted an increase in the refiners' selling price of 20 cents a hundred pounds.

Fear of what the neighbors might think or say is expected to prove a powerful deterrent to sugar hoarding under the stamp rationing plan which will start in a few weeks with registration of consumers in their neighborhood school houses.

The announcement by Henderson school teachers would be his agents in handling the applications of consumers for stamp books—one for every adult and child in the country—placed the sugar rationing plan, like that for tires and tubes, on a neighborhood basis.

The person who registers for his family's copies of "War Ration Book No. 1" will sign an application declaring the amount of sugar in his home. On the application form will be a reminder that false statements to any Federal agency is a criminal offense carrying penalties up to $10,000 fine or ten years' imprisonment.

Those whose family supply exceeds two pounds per person will have an appropriate number of stamps detached from the front of their books.

New England to Get Defense Equipment

Communities most important to New England defense will be given preference and the largest share of civilian defense equipment under the new $100,000,000 federal appropriation.

This was told to civilian defense directors of the six New England states by Joseph M. Loughlin, regional director, after communicating with Washington. Loughlin said Washington authorities were working out state and city allocation,

SUGAR RATION QUIZ GIVES PUBLIC FACTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Here are a few questions and answers clarifying some details of the sugar rationing program:

Q—When will rationing begin?

A—Probably not for another three weeks or more.

Q—What credentials will be needed to make purchases?

A—The ordinary domestic consumer must have a book of sugar ration stamps; details covering rationing to large industrial users, hotels, restaurants, and institutions have not yet been announced.

Q—Who gets the books?

A—A "war ration book No. 1" is being printed for each person in the country, regardless of age.

Q—How are they to be issued?

A—One person will register for each family unit; he will be given a book of stamps for each member of his family.

Q—Where will he register?

A—At local public schools, under direction of school teachers and under general supervision of local rationing boards.

Q—How much sugar can you buy with the stamp book?

A—Each book will contain 28 stamps; each stamp is numbered and will be good for the purchase of about 12 ounces of sugar during a designated week. When sugar is purchased, the buyer tears out the proper stamp and gives it to the storekeeper.

Q—What about persons with stocks of sugar on hand now?

A—At the time of registration, each registrant will be required to certify as to the amount of sugar per person in his family's possession. If the amount exceeds two pounds per person, the excess will be classed as "hoarded" sugar and an appropriate number of stamps will immediately be removed from the family's books. Book-holders thus will be unable to buy additional sugar until the family's stock us used up.

Q—What will prevent a registrant from making a false certification?

A—Each certificate will carry a warning that false reports to the government make the reporting person liable to a fine of as high as $10,000 or 10 years imprisonment.

Tomorrow's ADVERTISER

OUR DAILY CITATION: To War Time, as decreed by President Roosevelt but better known to you as Daylight Saving Time, which goes into effect at 2 a. m. Monday. When you move your clocks ahead an hour you will be doing a war duty, namely saving electric power.

CHAIRMAN FLYNN of the Democratic National Committee has interpreted, and distorted, national unity in war to mean suppression of political opposition.

He describes the anticipated effort to elect members of the Republican Party to Congress as a move "to destroy and disunite our people."

He ascribes such activity as the work of "peanut politicians" who are "not as much interested in winning the war as in controlling the House of Representatives."

This is an amazing philosophy, if Mr. Flynn is to be taken seriously.

It would not be national unity which would be achieved by such means, but an adjournment of democracy.

If every candidate for public office for the duration of the war is to be adjudged patriotic and a loyal citizen only if he has the approval of Mr. Flynn and the endorsement of the Democratic Party, the fundamental character of American government will undergo an unprecedented change.

It is to be wondered if Mr. Flynn is seeking national unity, or PERPETUATION OF POWER.

As chairman of the Democratic Party, Mr. Flynn is naturally interested in electing as many Democrats as possible and as often as possible.

That is his job.

However, it is highly questionable if he should attempt to establish tests for public office never included in the laws of the nation.

Why does he not content himself with offering the American people candidates of his party for public office on the basis of their demonstrable merits.

Why does he not trust the American people to elect representatives of merit?

If democracy is not to be relied upon in war or other emergency, what real dependence can be put upon it?

Democracy is not a fair-weather philosophy, to be adhered to in tranquil times and to be hastily discarded at the first approach of danger.

Democracy is either beneficial for America at all times, and especially so under stress, or it is not beneficial at all.

It is the loss of American democracy against which we are fighting.

Why should we permit the brand of disloyalty and disunity to be put upon any Americans who, as individuals or candidates or supporters of legitimate and historic political parties, are engaged in carrying out the basic precepts of democracy?

Mr. Flynn says it would be a misfortune comparable to "a major military defeat" for a Republican House of Representatives to be elected this Fall.

On the contrary, it might possibly be a victory for efficient conduct of the war.

It might be a victory for Americanism.

It might even be a victory for true democracy.

Moreover, such a result could only be accomplished by the majority vote of the American people, and thus by the clear and directly expressed will of the American people, Mr. Flynn is in the dangerous position of challenging the RIGHT of the people to keep the control of government in their hands.

Mr. Flynn should have more confidence in the American people, and more faith in their good judgment. They have conducted great wars before, and have never found it necessary to abandon democracy to do so. They will conduct and win this great war, and let us hope they will not be prevailed upon to make the loss of democracy the price thereof.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT was justified in expressing mental reservations in respect to the efficacy of the price control act which he has signed.

But the defect in the emergency legislation does not spring solely from the insistence of the farm bloc on a ceiling of 110 per cent of parity prices.

Weakness was translated into the law at the very moment when leadership in and out of Congress refused to accept the Baruch formula of an overall price ceiling, including prices, wages and rents.

Timidness in risking the ire of organized labor through a wage limitation inevitably raised the farm issue. For the essence of national farm policy since 1933 has been to assure the farmer of a fair exchange value between farm products and industrial goods.

Farm groups, recognizing that wages are the major item in industrial costs and prices, were distrustful of a ceiling on industrial prices without any corresponding limitation on industrial costs.

Perhaps, as the President has indicated, the chief hope lies in amending the new legislation as experience shows the need of it.

When the normal distribution of goods through free prices is stopped through price ceilings, then a necessary corollary is the rationing of scarce itms.

Such interferences with human freedom are necessary in war time, but the people are entitled to a commitment from government to demobilize all the emergency restrictive apparatus promptly after victory against the Axis powers has been won.

Eat slowly; only men in rags
And gluttons old in sin
Mistake themselves for carpet bags
And tumble victuals in.
—SIR WALTER RALEIGH

IS SAID the average American consumes a dinner in 15 minutes when at home. Restaurant eaters get through with a meal in 11 minutes. Coffee shop counter eaters are the country's speed champions when it comes to tumbling victuals in. They do away with a dinner in about seven minutes.

"SHE GAVE her husband a married look," is a quotation by E. J. Rath I noted with interest. What is a married look? Is it a possessive glance; a you-belong-to-me-and-don't-you-forget-it expression? Or is it one of those glances of reproach a wife gives her husband at a party when he commits a social error? Or what? And if a wife wanted to give her husband an "unmarried look" how would she do it? We would like to have this information to add to our Horses & Women files.

ROMANTIC COUPLE: What would be your choice for the most romantic married couple in stage and screen history? Mine would be Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle. Two struggling unknowns when married in 1911, they rose to the heights together and were parted on Feb. 15, 1918 when Vernon was killed while acting as a flying instructor in Texas. He had enlisted in 1915 and seen action in France with the Royal Air Force. Swing is lively and spirited, but no more so than the dances were in the heyday of the Castles. Some that were popular then were the Turkey Trot, Bunny Hug, Grizzly Bear, Gaby Glide, Castle Walk, Hesitation, Maxixe and Tango.

SAID HE: Says the Rev. Edward R. Goodwin of Los Angeles: "Let us hope the American people will never forget Pearl Harbor; and may they resolve to dump out of office every Congressman who participated in the neglect and hindrances of preparedness during the past 25 years; who appeased Japan for years with the slogan: 'Our Junk Will Win Your Wars.'"

PASSING BY: Jim Burke. Erstwhile vaudevillian. Perhaps you recall Mr. Burke singing that old New York folk song: "Down by the Winegar Woiks" . . . Bea Wain. Sweet, scintillating singer of sad and sophisticated songs. Bea is an enthusiastic bowler. "You should take up bowling," a friend said to her about seven months ago. "Why?" asked Bea. "You look so well in shorts," said the friend. Have you noticed that girls who look well in shorts are always enthusiastic tennis, bowling, golf or basketball players. The girls who don't look so well in shorts play bridge or gin-rummy . . . Slim Sallee. Former major leaguer. Don't tell me you've forgotten the old "Sheriff," once of the Cardinals and also of the Giants. Who remembers a long, lean, lanky Dodger pitcher named Virgil Garvin? He was the only big league pitcher I ever knew who was the father of eight children.

ASIDES: Hollywoodians to prevent inconvenience from the tire rationing are motoring over the border and buying tires in Tia Juana, Mexico, where they are still for sale to anybody with the price . . . Igor Sikorsky's Helicopter may figure largely in the final decision of the current war. Sikorsky has been working on Helicopters since 1901. He made his first attempt in this respect when 12 years of age . . "In the Orient, far more than the Occident, prestige is the measuring rod of success." Secretary of War Stimson said that some time ago. We hope he still believes it. It would not aid United States prestige in the Orient to lose the Philippines or have an Army leader of the caliber of Gen. Douglas MacArthur fall into the hands of the Japs.

PLEASE NOTE: "In World War I," says British military expert Capt. Mortimer Kean, "the Germans planned on starving England into submission and after taking possession of Nova Scotia to lay waste to New York, Atlantic City and Brooklyn." Ah, so the Germans planned to lay waste to Brooklyn, did they? Boy, does that burn me up? Now I am really sore . . . Amateur boxing contests in which fighters from European nations participated were recently held in Breslau, Germany. A Swedish boxer knocked out three Germans in a row. Der Fuehrer was not amused and ordered that no more such boxing events be held.

SIDELIGHTS: Breach of promise suits are barred in Indiana, Michigan, New York, Illinois and Massachusetts. Argument in favor of this legislation is that it is better for a man to change his mind about his love for a woman before marriage than after, when there are children who would suffer because of a divorce. Seems a point well taken . . . Are there any trade schools which have courses in diamond cutting? Anyway, for a 35 hour week, diamond cutters are now being paid from $125 to $195 per week.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: "Why not a recollection of that great actor, Sol Smith Russell?" asks a Chicagoan. Never saw him act, sir. Was before my time. But I hear he was really something in "A Poor Relation" . . . An Absecon, N. J. subscriber says she made up some red, white and blue boquets from her garden last Memorial Day and sold over 100 of same. There's an idea for florists. How about some red, white and blue boquets for sale at all times?

ADDED DETAILS: With intelligent, diligent care an automobile in the popular price class can last for 500,000 miles. And with the same kind of attention a tire can last 100,000 to 200,000 miles. So states an auto expert . . . If a family has three dogs and one is a Dachshund he will immediately take charge of the other two pups. Yes, sir, Dachshunds are born dictators. They must have picked this trait up in Germany

LINDA GREY SETS BRIDAL DATE

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Feb. 7—Dorothy Lamour and Gregory Bautzer have rekindled the blaze—and it's just a few weeks since they "never wanted to see each other again" . . . Edward Duryea Dowling and Linda Grey, the beauty, will waltz down the aisle come June 21 . . . Artie Shaw will form a new swing band—his steenth—in mid-March . . . Radio lad John Conti is being lured from Fannie Brice by Nancy Kelly O'Brien . . . A lad who looks just like Bob Eberly, Jimmy Dorsey's vocalist, is impersonating him around town. He "borrows" from music publishers and agents . . . Phyllis Brooks and Winston Frost are anything but frosty.

Edward Griffith, the director, was so impressed with their interest in the film when it was being made in the Bahamas, he's shipping them the first print . . . Milton Berle insists a composer friend of his has a ghost writer who turns out nothing but haunting melodies.

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

THE "WHO" OF THIS exclusive item is Deanna Durbin, who will come to town Monday to fill a reservation for herself "and party" at the Ritz-Carlton . . . The "what" and "where" and "when" of the story seem to be missing, although a very unexplicit report has it that her Boston visit is in connection with services for USO . . . The USO operates shows at the cantonments . . . Deanna, therefore, may be booked for Fort Devens or Edwards . . . You would think, however, that there are enough public relations experts attached to government agencies to make it unnecessary for a reporter to speculate about such an important young visitor . . . Deanna is news.

IN A DRAG-'EM OUT battle with her studio, the famous young singer announced recently that she would retire from the movies, and would go to England to entertain the soldiers . . . This tactless bombshell shocked show-business . . . Critics of Deanna's position pointed out that Uncle Sam had some soldiers of his own who might enjoy the bell-like trills of the Durbin voice . . . And now, we learn that Miss Durbin has agreed that her duty lies over here . . . This column would not be surprised if news should be forthcoming soon to the effect that Miss Durbin, who bailed out Universal when it was entertaining overtures from the Sheriff, has made peace with the studio . . . If so, the first and obvious move to restore Deanna to national popularity would be to book her at a few soldier camps . . . and then a new picture.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Rowland F. Hill, 3d, 8¼ pounds, has arrived at Cahill House, Cambridge . . . The proud sire is Rowland F. Hill, Jr., of this newspaper's sports staff . . . Boston will have seen both of the Park Avenue "French twins" (who aren't twins but look alike) when Eleanor French opens at the Chinese Room as the chanteuse with Jack Marshard's orchestra . . . Eleanor's sister Peggy was the prettiest of the three bathing-suit wearers in "George Washington Slept Here," and acted the part summer with the Chasset Town Hall Players . . . Restaurants and hotels in Miami have started to ration sugar, proving that proximity to the Cuban supply doesn't mean a thing . . . In some Florida communities choice citrus fruit is nearly as hard to get (unless you own a ranch or know a rancher) as it is in Newfoundland . . . This sounds incredible unless one has experienced it . . . The answer is that the best oranges, lemons and grapefruit are shipped to northern market, leaving culls for local consumption.

DEANNA DURBIN DUE IN TOWN MONDAY

But Purpose of Her Visit is All So Mysterious

IF BENNY DROHAN HAS recovered from his cold, Manager Al Taxier of the Rio Casino plans to have him on hand for the Saturday night trade . . . The South Bostonian was a big hit at his opening Sunday night . . . The Casino's "Adrift in New York" will play at least another week, but the melodrama of the Mauve Decade is now supplemented by a regular floor show and a chorus line . . . The Cocoanut Grove has been host every night this week to gold-braided friends of pretty Evalyn Martin, the dancer . . . If anyone starts to "talk war," the subject is changed at once.

JOHN BOLES, IN the company of Lou Bonick and Granville Ryan, the hair-tonic executive, gave a thrill to customers of the Copley Square Grill when John dropped in to hear De Forest work his magic on the electric organ . . . Boles ran into the same sort of discouraging weather that he encountered five years ago at the Metropolitan . . . But the rush of reservations began afresh yesterday and The Mayfair may break its all-time Saturday night record tonight . . . Boles really should be a "must" . . . Success of his new picture, "The Road to Happiness," and a Sunday night radio program being negotiated, will zoom the handsome singer into new popularity quickly . . . Although he is getting $2000 a week at The Mayfair, Boles won't be available at such a "low" figure again for a long time to come.

OWN DAUGHTERS LLOYD'S STARLETS

By Louella O. Parsons

Ona Munson

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 7—Harold Lloyd is one producer who didn't have to look far for two new starlets. If you've seen pictures of Peggy and Gloria Lloyd you know they are two of the prettiest youngsters in Hollywood, and they are as unspoiled and sweet as they are pretty. I suppose by now you've guessed it: Yes, Producer Lloyd is going to make a picture with his daughters in which he will play the father—a young, different kind of father who gets in almost as many jams as the young folks. When I talked with Harold he said: "I hadn't exactly intended to give out the story yet about Gloria and Peggy going into the movies. But since you ask me—it is true. However, both girls have to finish their senior year at Westlake school this year and after that they're to be coached for the movies. They are inexperienced and need training." But Harold couldn't keep the tone of pride over the family beauties out of his voice. Won't it be something to see Harold, famous specs and all, playing a movie papa to his own debutante daughters?

A RED HOT murder story with plenty of equally torrid love is the movie that awaits Maureen O'Hara at RKO. "The Crime of Laura Sarelle," by Josephine Shearing, one of England's best sellers, has been bought and handed to Reeves Espy, who will produce it. Since "How Green Was My Valley," Maureen's stock has soared and since her contract is shared by RKO and 20th it was really up to RKO to buy something good for her.

WHETHER GARBO did or did not agree to go on the Victory program is not as important as the chance she missed in NOT broadcasting. So much criticism has been heaped on her head these past few months by Americans all over the country, who complain that she made her money here and then sent it to Sweden. Her attitude, too, in running for cover every time anyone looks at her has made her the object of ridicule in many American minds. Had she appeared on a broadcast with other 100 per cent Americans much of the criticism might have been avoided. True, Garbo is reported to have given to many of our charities and war funds, but the great picture-going public doesn't know that and Garbo, after all, owes it to the industry to make a public appearance or give some explanation about her attitude if she wants to continue her screen career.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Ensign Wayne Morris and Pat Stuart are expected to wed before he leaves for his station; Joan Crawford has been very nervous and upset. She was on the Chief that had the accident, killing two women motorists; Sheila Ryan, with braces on her teeth, looks anything but the glamour girl; Lew Ayres and Ann Ayars, a dinner twosome at the Brown Derby. Lew leaves soon for government service; a letter from Gloria Vanderbilt and Pat Di Cicco from Palm Beach sounds as if two people were never happier; Walter Huston is taking a book of stills from "Yankee Doodle Dandy" to George M. Cohan, who is still a very sick man; Vicki Lester and Arturo Cordova, Mexican film star, are finding each other extremely good company; Ona Munson leaves for New York, and whether she'll marry Stewart McDonald while there only she and her rumored bridegroom know; Capt. Elliott Roosevelt in town on 24 hour leave, has left for his war duties. That's all for today, but Mecca Graham says: "Buy Defense Bonds. It's grand to pay the American way."

Golf Balls to Be Rationed

JOE KIRKWOOD, famous trick shot golfer who is in Boston for appearances at the Sportsmen's and Boat Show that opened at Mechanics Building today, declared that golf should carry on as usual during the war as it helps the physical fitness and morale programs.

"I do not approve of the action of some of our amateur golf associations in calling off their tournaments," said Kirkwood. "The Professional Golfers Association has shown the right attitude in scheduling its regular number of tournaments.

"Golf helps keep people physically fit. This is important during a war period.

"Golf also furnishes relaxation. When one plays golf, he should relax so as to derive the most benefit from the game. When one remains tense and tightened up, he does not get the amount of good from golf that he should."

Kirkwood considers Sam Snead the greatest golfer in the world.

"Sam can do about everything on a golf course," asserted Kirkwood. "I would not say that a golfer like Bobby Jones compared with Snead. I do not believe Jones would rate with any one of a dozen leading pros.

"Golf has come a long way during the past ten years. With the same equipment, the star golfers now turn in lower scores. This improvement is due to the fact the golfers work harder and have also profited by the experiences of the oldtimers.

"I have played golf in every country of the world other than Russia. The only reason I have not played in Russia is because they have no golf courses there.

"They say I was born in a bunker in Australia. I have been in a bunker since.

"I first started my trick shots for the amusement of the soldiers in Australian hospitals after World War No. 1. I had been a cowboy and I had picked up golf watching the man for whom I worked play the game. I learned the various trick shots I used by my own experiments. I did not have a teacher.

"I decided that if the soldiers liked my shots perhaps other people would too. So I added a few more shots to my list and came to America, met Bob Harlow and Walter Hagen and then went places. Bob, who once wrote golf on the Boston American, is publishing a newspaper at Pinehurst, N. C. Bob managed Walter Hagen and myself and did a good job for us.

"Joe Williams wrote that Bob would rather lead his newspaper with the story of a major golf match than with one on the war. Like myself, Bob loves golf."

Golf Ball Shortage

Kirkwood was frank in admitting there is a golf ball shortage.

"Like the sugar shortage and some other shortages that exist," said the famous pro, "it is due to hoarding. I had 400 dozen golf balls in my shop in Philadelphia when I went on a trip that took me as far as Mexico. When I returned, I found that a young man who works for me had sold all of the golf balls during the Christmas rush. People bought enough golf balls to last them all season.

"If I had been home, I would not have permitted such sales. We all should be willing to share with the other fellow what we have in the line of athletic equipment as well as sugar and other foods.

"I look for golf ball rationing. The sport will continue through 1942 as there are enough golf balls on hand if they are spread out over the golf clubs of the country.

Kirkwood declared there are few star amateurs, and that he does not know of a single promising youngster in the amateur ranks.

"There are many good amateur golfers," said Kirkwood, "but none of them stand out as did Bobby Jones and Francis Ouimet when they were in their prime. I think the professionals have made greater strides than the amateurs.

"The desire of the professionals to keep golf rolling during the war will help their position. I am also for having baseball, football, boxing and other sports maintain as near normal programs as possible."

Bait Casting Champion

Doc Wellman, bait casting champion, also attended the luncheon at the Hotel Lenox. He will give exhibitions at he Sportsmen's and Boat Show.

At the head table besides Kirkwood I noted Sheldon Fairbanks, Albert Rau and George Laing, all of whom have been prominent factors in the success of this show.

George Laing has charge of the various fishing exhibitions as well as of the guides. He directs the various contests, and he assures me they will be better than ever this year.

Consider Crow's Nests In Court Tournament

ASHLAND, Ore., Feb. 7 (AP)—Crow's nest basketball officiating may be used in some games of the national intercollegiate tournament in Kansas City, March 9-14.

Coach Jean Eberhart said he had been asked for information on the innovation in which referees are perched above the baskets by E. S. Liston, athletic director of Baker University, Baldwin, Kan. Liston is secretary-treasurer of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Ass'n.

THREE PICS LIFTED TO B'S; WADE GOES TO HERSHEY

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, SATURDAY, FEB. 7, 1942

Following the game, the duo, both under 21 years of age, will be signed to Bruin contracts and will make their debut with the Stanley Cup champions tomorrow night at the Garden against Detroit Red Wings.

Also graduated from the Olympic ranks are Lloyd Gronsdal, a wingman from Norquay, Sask., and Jake Wade from Peterboro, Ont.

The former, a wicked right-hand shot, will finish with the Pics tomorrow night in Baltimore and will then return to the Hub to get his first fling of major league hockey Tuesday night against the Canadiens.

Wade, a left-hand shot who teamed with McGill on one of the Olympics' lines, left the Hub today with Frank Mario to join Hershey, where they will play for the Bears tonight against Springfield.

THE BRUINS ARE SHOT

All four boys are Bruin farmhands, sent to the Olympics at the start of the season along with Cy Beigler.

Injuries and the Canadian army ruined the Bruins and caused Art Ross to call on these boys.

He has been watching both McGill and Martin closely during the past few weeks and feels they will fill part of the huge gap left by the injuries to Capt. Dit Clapper, Herb Cain and Bill Cowley and the departure Tuesday night of the Krauts.

In the event McGill and Martin fail to make the grade, they will be shipped to Hershey, and the B's will retain Jack Shewchuk and Gordon Bruce. If they click, however, both will stay, and Shewchuk and Bruce will go back to Hershey.

McGill will center for Roy Conacher and Eddie Wiseman, and Martin will team with Jack Crawford at right defense.

McGILL TOP SCORER

McGill, who stands an even six feet and tips the scales at 185, is the leading Olympic scorer, having tallied 31 goals and the same number of assists for a grand total of 62 points. He scored his 31st last night at the Garden against the Johnstown Blue Birds in a game which the visitors won 3-2.

Martin, who weighs 185 and stands as high as McGill, has been a clever stick handler while playing right defense this year and scored 10 goals and 17 assists.

ONE FOR "BUSHER"—Drawing Frankie Brimsek out of position late in the third period, Harvey "Busher" Jackson, a Bruin but performing for the National League All-Star Old Timers, sinks the fourth goal for the Stars last night at the Garden before a packed house of 14,662. Game ended in a 4-4 deadlock.

Bruins Tie All-Stars But Need Extra Time

By BILL GRIMES

After blowing a three-goal lead in the final period, the Bruins had to talk the official timekeeper into letting the watch run over 52 seconds to enable them to tie the Old Time All-Stars at the Boston Garden, 4-4.

One of the largest crowds of the season turned out for the exhibition game, which was played for the Army Relief Society and drew 14,662 customers.

During the opening period, the All Stars suffered from stage fright. Many of them hadn't appeared on ice in years and didn't feel at home. Small wonder, then, that the Bruins beat Tiny Thompson for three goals in the first stanza.

But after a half hour lay off, the Old Timers came back to score four goals and take a 4 to 3 lead.

THIRTY PLAYERS ON ICE

With what should have been one minute and 22 seconds to play, "Busher" Jackson had put the All-Stars out in front, but the timekeeper was unable to stop the watch, and the period was allowed to continue for three or four extra minutes.

At 15.56, which was 56 seconds after the game should have been over, Gordie Bruce counted for the Bruins.

Shortly after the game had been deadlocked, the extra players climbed over the boards and for a couple of minutes there were 30 players in action. It was a most fitting finish for a great show.

• • •

In all probability the hockey public never enjoyed itself more than last night. First, they were thrilled to get a look at the old time stars. Second, they were really surprised at the ability of the old boys. Third, the finale was a knockout, for it was the first time they had ever seen 30 players in action.

• • •

Of course some of the boys were a trifle overweight, particularly Marty Barry and "Chuck" Conacher. But, on one occasion in the second period, the old Ranger line, Bill and Bun Cook and Frankie Boucher, put on a real exhibition of combination play . . . The windup was a knockout . . . With about two minutes to go all of the players on both benches swarmed over the boards and put on a free-for-all . . . "Chuck" Conacher, Marty Barry and Herbie Lewis ganged up on Frankie Brimsek, dragged him out of the Boston net and held him on the ice but their teammates were unable to get the puck in the cage.

• • •

Tiny Thompson didn't get the feel of things until the second period. As a result the Bruins beat him for three tallies in the opening stanza. Then the All-Stars came back and tied up the game by virtue of two goals by Bill Cook

Melrose Ice Sextet Tops Rindge, 4-0

BOSTON GARDEN, Feb. 7—Melrose's powerful Red Raiders won their second straight Greater Boston interscholastic hockey league championship here this afternoon defeating Rindge Tech, 4-0, to remove the last possible barrier in its way to loop honors.

The conquest was the Red Raiders' sixth straight league victory of the season. Melrose hasn't been defeated or tied this season. In the first game of the weekly card of four Medford jumped into a third place tie with Arlington, defeating the latter 3-2.

FIRST PERIOD

Jack Garrity and Charlie Bennett combined, the former scoring to give Medford the games initial lead in the fourth minute of play.

Seconds before the end of the period Joe Riley smashed a shot off Goalie Ralph Devins' and received credit for a goal when Arlington's Bronie Beardsley, attempting to clear, nudged the puck into his own net.

Score—Medford 2, Arlington 0.

SECOND PERIOD

Arlington had a number of chances to score in this canto, but failed to capitalize. Medford was short-handed when penalties sent Davis and Sanford twice to the penalty box but Arlington muffed all opportunities.

Score—Medford 2, Arlington 0.

THIRD PERIOD

Ralph Colley and Jim Malone punched goals for Arlington in this chapter but Medford's Bill Garrity also garnered a counter so victory belonged to Medford.

MEDFORD		ARLINGTON

Medford—B. Garrity (unassisted) 6:52
Arlington—J. McTee, Cunha, B. McTee 9:52
Penalties—Hayes (board check), Nolan (board check).

Rindge-Melrose

FIRST PERIOD

Lou Spadafora, the league's leading scorer, gave Melrose a one goal advantage when he tallied from 10 feet out after taking a well placed forward pass from Ed Cahoon. Melrose forced the action during the period remaining minutes but failed to score again.

Score: Melrose 1, Rindge Tech 0.

SECOND PERIOD

Jimmy Sutherland slammed a blue line shot which zinged through goalie Hugh Pioccone and Melrose's advantage rose to two goals in the third minute of the period. Two minutes later Tom Dockrell scored and Melrose appeared "home."

Score: Melrose 3, Rindge Tech 0.

BRAINS—It looks as though Harvard hoop coach Earl Brown and Capt. Chris Finegan are planning some skillful skullduggery to make it two scalps in a row from the Dartmouth Indians at Hanover tonight. If successful, it will be the first time in four years that the high-riding Indians have been so treated.

RUTH 48; BLASTS NIGHT BASEBALL

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (INS)—Night baseball is a pain in the neck to George Herman Ruth—literally and figuratively.

"I got out of the game just in time," George Herman said early today, on his 48th birthday, before entraining for the coast where he will play a part in the forthcoming movie "Pride of the Yankees," the story of Lou Gehrig.

"When I was coaching for Brooklyn," said the Babe, "after a night game I'd wake up in the middle of the night with severe pains in my neck.

"Those chill, damp night winds are tough on the bones. A player gets steamed up during a play, and the between innings cools off and it's bad. Night ball is hard on the eyes too.

"Of course," the Sultan of Swat said, "night ball is a boon for the gate. But the magnate's gain is the player's loss."

LOST A LOT OF WEIGHT

Ruth had only two bats in his luggage.

"I don't think I'll break many bats against movie pitching," he grinned.

The Babe was positively svelte as befits a movie star.

"Two twenty-three now," he beamed around the Ruthian cigar. "When I played last I weighed 248, just before I went to the hospital I weighed 264."

Of his recent hospitalization, Ruth said:

"Never felt better. Got my weight down there. Dunno how. It just went.

PICTURE OF HEALTH

"After I got out I got my legs in shape, too. Went hunting at a friend's place over at Plainville, N. J. Got plenty of walking." And the Babe, never one to deprecate his accomplishments, added: "Got plenty of birds, too."

The Babe looked the picture of health. He wore a tan polo coat, was hatless despite the miserable weather, and the cigar jutted over his bulldog jaw at a jaunty angle. He was bright of eye, and with the paunch gone, his step was positively springy.

Jim Tabor Homers In Speaker's Debut

By HERB FINNEGAN

Ever know Jim Tabor was a talented after-dinner speaker? Eddie Doherty says the Red Sox third sacker popped the customers' eyes out at Winthrop Thursday night. Jim not only gave a lively dissertation on third base play but got right down on the floor with the guests and showed them how it is done.

• • •

"Here's where I play with one out and the opposing team one run ahead," explains Jim. "Here's where I play with two out" etc. "Fellow would learn more listening to Tabe than he would in a baseball school," Doherty opines, and it isn't hard to admit he's right.

• • •

Tabe, incidentally, says he has exhausted his quota of speaking engagements for the month. The big Alabaman, now making his home in Brighton, will leave for the South with Johnny Orlando on Feb. 20, four days ahead of the Boston contingent and two weeks ahead of the schedule calling for Sox infielders and outfielders to report. Jim's heart is set on being the leagues's all-star third baseman this year.

• • •

Eddie Doherty is leaving for the South Monday, at the latest, and he can't start soon enough. The Fenway offices have been ripped from stem to stern, and there has been enough dust floating around there to send a fellow to Arizona. The entire office pack, four women and four men, have been huddled in the press room since season's end, and it has been no fun. The worst is over, however, because the third floor offices are nearly completed and Eddie Collins will move into his new office Monday.

• • •

Doherty will drive down to Sarasota with his wife. He's been on a speaking tour for the Sox all winter and hasn't had a vacation. He's anxious to get in a couple of weeks of golf before the club reports for spring training. He'll visit Johnny Peacock, Sox catcher, on the way down. Johnny, the old mule skinner, lives in Fremont, N. C., 60 miles from Dick Newsome. Doherty will caddy for his buddy, Joe Cronin, at the baseball players' tournament at Miami next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Cronin, incidentally, expects to win the tournament. He has been practicing his golf game diligently at Sarasota for the past month and is now shooting in the 70's.

• • •

Before he left the office for the week-end and Sarasota, Doherty reported he had received a letter from Emerson Dickman, in which the latter said he had joined the Naval Reserve on Jan. 19 and expects to report for duty on March 1. That leaves the Sox with only 14 pitchers, whereas a year ago they had 21. Perhaps they'll be able to concentrate on eight or 10 of those 14 and get somewhere. Last year there were so many pitchers they couldn't get enough work.

E. Dickman S. Spence

Johnny Welaj (Well-eye), outfielder the Red Sox got from Washington in lieu of Stanley Spence, will be 27 in May. He can run, all agree, but he can't hit a lick. Fans will be asking before long why the Sox let Spence go for such a weak hitter. Spence could hit, though he never had much chance to prove it here. He was a standout in the American Association, and every kid who played with him there says he's a real ball player. He will get a break with Washington, which needs long hitters now that Lewis and Travis have entered the service.

Harvard Five Loses Veteran For Green Tilt

Minus big Ed Rothschild, veteran guard who quit the squad yesterday to concentrate on his studies, ten members of the Harvard basketball team entrained for Hanover this morning for the game with Dartmouth tonight.

Though admitting the loss of Rothschild will handicap his defense, Earl Brown, Crimson coach, thinks his charges have a good chance to make it two straight over the Cowlesmen.

Besides the fact that Dartmouth is out to avenge the defeat last month by the Crimson, the feature of the game will be the battle for scoring honors between Harvard's "Bunks" Burditt, and George Munroe, leading scorer in the Eastern Intercollegiate League.

Harvard Frosh Have Busy Day

Headed by the hockey game tonight with Exeter at the Boston Skating Club rink, six major Harvard freshman teams go into action today in their busiest day of the winter.

Coach Skeet Canterbury's discchasers have copped five games in a row, and loom as one of the best yearling sextets in Harvard history. Following an exam layoff of three weeks, they edged out Andover 7-6 Wednesday, to rack up a total of 35 goals against 11 for the opposition.

Coach Al McCoy's basketeers go after their fifth win against Andover at the Harvard indoor athletic building at 4 o'clock.

'HUMAN BIRD' CALLS RIVALS MENTALLY LAZY

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Cornelius Warmerdam, who sails through the air with the greatest of ease, says mental laziness keeps other athletes from duplicating his 15-foot pole vaulting.

The Piedmont, Cal., school teacher, here for the 35th annual Millrose games tonight, explained that vaulters for years had considered 14 feet as their ceiling and "persuaded themselves that they were budging the deadline when they crossed 14-10."

The human bird says he sold himself on doing 15 feet even before he was able to clear 12 feet as a prep vaulter. Then on April 12, 1940, when he made the first of his dozen 15-footers, "I immediately began thinking of 16."

"As a school teacher, I know how strong is the power of suggestion," he added.

The California skylark wired meet officials a week ago that he saw no reason for crossing the continent to make "a mere 14-foot jump," but could "virtually promise" one a foot higher if the runway in Madison Square Garden were extended to 137 feet. It was done.

The games also mark the North American indoor debuts of two South American athletes, Guillermo Huidobro of Chile and Jose Bento De Assis of Brazil. The former will compete against Gene Venzke in the 1000 yard run. The Brazilian is a sprinter.

Leslie MacMitchell, New York University's rugged middle distance runner, hopes to win his first Wanamaker mile and smash Chuck Fenske's 1940 record of 4:07.4.

Greg Rice, the old Notre Dame rambler, will go after his twenty-first consecutive indoor win in the two-mile, a distance at which he holds the record of eight minutes, 51.1 seconds.

Twenty-two colleges and universities, including Notre Dame's speedy foursome, are entered in the six heat one-mile relay and 13 schools have sent two-mile teams.

B. C. Relay Team Meets Colgate, R. I. State

The Boston College mile relay team, accompained by Manager Harry Brown, Coach Jack Ryder and the latter's two-mile protege, Gil Dodds, departed this morning for New York and Madison Sq. Garden where the Eagles will meet Rhode Island State and Colgate in a "special" on the annual Millrose Games card.

Dodds, who has been training under Coach Ryder for the past couple of months, will compete against Greg Rice in the two-mile run.

Bill Riley (Jamaica Plain), Ed McCarthy, (Medford), John O'Connor (South Boston) and Jim Kelleher (Lawrence) form the Eagle's quartet.

Harvard Track Team Makes Debut Tonight

Paced by two hurdlers, one sprinter, a one and two-mile relay team, Harvard track team makes its official bow of the season at the Millrose games in New York tonight.

Coach Jaako Mikkola has entered Don MacKinnon and Ted Bauer in the 60-yard high hurdles; Bill Trainor in the dash; and a two-mile relay team composed of Captain Bob Houghton, Bill Palson, Tim Coggeshall, and Dave Matlack. The Harvard entries in the one-mile relay race among the Big Three will be Ward Slingerland, Larry Corbett, Frank McKechnie and Bill Ellis.

SHINNY—A bit of horseplay (note Goalie Brimsek being held) was enacted in final minutes of the Bruins-All-Star game which attracted more than 14,000 fans at the Boston Garden last night when the entire squads of both teams took the ice. The game was played to aid the Army Relief Fund. At that, the Bruins, world champions, had to buy the time keeper to run the clock over so as to get a 4—4 tie. Eddie Shore, "Mr. Hockey" himself, was the darling of the fans while leading the All-Stars which included: Bun Cook, Frank Boucher, Bill Cook, Red Horner, Tiny Thompson, Larry Auri, Herb Lewis, Marty Barry, Ching Johnson, Charlie Conacher, Joe Primeau, Harvey Jackson, Cy Wentworth, George Owen, Hooley Smith and Cooney Weiland.

MITTERSILL SKI TOW OPENS FREE OF CHARGE TO ALL TODAY

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

Skiers! Here is your chance to ride all day on a tow without buying a single ticket. Just think, miles of downhill running, absolutely free.

No, it is not a dream. All you have to do to avail yourself of this Scotchman's Holiday is to journey to Franconia, N. H., where the highest rope tow in the East will have it's gala opening today. This hoist will be known as the Mittersill Ski Tow, and all persons will be guests of the owner, Hubert Pantz. No charge will be made and everyone, visitors and natives alike, can ride the whole day, "on the house."

The tow is located on Cannon Mountain, just 320 yards north of the Taft race trail and only 500 yards from the main highway. The end of the 1250 foot tow reaches an elevation of 2500 feet, with the practice slope at the base at approximately the 2000 foot level.

A new sleigh service, via the Tucker Brook Trail to transport skiers to the slope from Franconia Village, will give a novel and gay touch to the region.

This new open slope is conveniently situated in that it will give more expert skiers a chance to enjoy the six trails on Cannon Mountain. This center certainly offers skiing for those of any ability.

• • •

Snow Valley, a mammoth new development in the Green Mountains outside of Manchester, Vermont, has been selected as the site for the southern Vermont Slalom championships today and tomorrow. Gates will be set on the Grand Slam slope under the direction of the Manchester Winter Sports Club. The downhill race will be contested on nearby Bromley Mountain's Shiseracker Schuss . . . The past week-end snowfall added another foot of new powder to the Grand Slam's original base, thus providing excellent conditions for this initial race . . .

COMICS—Riding a bicycle built for two, Shipstad and Johnson, world famous ice comedy team, will make their entrance in a sequence called "Date With Daisy" in the new Ice Follies of 1942 which will open at the Boston Garden on Feb. 11.

N. H. Sets Pace In Dartmouth Carnival Ski

HANOVER, N. H., Feb. 7 (AP)—The University of New Hampshire ski team held a lead over seven other colleges today as the second half of Dartmouth's deglamorized winter carnival got under way.

With gala house parties, the choosing of a queen and the building of ice statues cancelled because of the war, the carnival was turned exclusively into an athletic meet.

The Wildcats, defending champions of the meet, scored 296.7 points yesterday in the downhill, slalom and combined events, but Dartmouth was close behind with 285, and today's jumping event will decide the winner.

Other scores at the end of yesterday's competition: Middlebury, third, 280.3 points; Norwich, fourth, 273.8; Williams, fifth, 273.3; Harvard, sixth, 272.5; St. Lawrence, seventh, 262.6, and Amherst, eighth, 222.7.

Individual winners were Steve Knowlton of New Hampshire in the downhill and Romey Everdell of Williams in the slalom, with Knowlton, who finished third in the slalom, winning the combined.

Lynn's Hegan Signs Cleveland Contract

CLEVELAND, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Indians' youngest baseball battery — Pitcher Steve Gromek and Catcher Jim Hegan of Lynn, Mass. — returned signed contracts to Vice - President Roger Peckinpaugh.

Other players signed include: Manager Lou Boudreau, Jim Bagby, Clint Brown, Ray Post, and Oris Hockett.

BRUINS TIE ALL-STARS, 4-4, BUT NEED EXTRA TIME TO DO IT

and one each by "Busher" Jackson and George Owen.

• • •

The game was a sell out, and the Army Relief Society netted a pretty penny. Bobby Bauer and Cordie Bruce did the scoring for the Bruins. The program was exceptionally well arranged, thanks to Herb Ralby. After the Rossmen appeared, the All-Stars were introduced in the following order: Coach Cooney Weiland, Marty Barry, Larry Aurie, Hooley Smith, Herbie Lewis, "Ching" Johnson, "Busher" Jackson, Joe Primeau, "Chuck" Conacher, George Owen, Frankie Boucher, Bun Cook, Bill Cook, "Red" Horner, Tiny Thompson and Eddie Shore.

• • •

"Mr. Hockey" received a real ovation. It was his first appearance on Garden ice since he quit the Bruins. It must have been five minutes before the fans stopped cheering him. Then, he went over to the public address system and made a very clever response relating about the thrill one receives when "he gets a pat on the shoulder and a voice says, 'Gee, it's nice to see you again.' And that's the way I feel. Thank you."

• • •

It was too bad "Dit Clapper and "King" Clancy missed the show . . . George Owen is getting bald. But he's still a great hockey player . . . The paid admissions were announced as 14,662 . . . The All Star game in Cleveland last week drew only $4200 . . . "Red Horner got a great laugh when he was booed by the crowd . . . "Ching" Johnson hasn't gained a pound since he quit playing . . . Bill Stewart was wildly cheered when Eddie Cummings announced he'd be the referee . . . There were no less than eight American Hockey League managers on the All-Star team . . . And that should be a great boost for that league.

Bobo Newsom Issues Defy To Tiger Boss

HARTSVILLE, S. C., Feb. 7 (AP)—Bobo Newsom, the Detroit Tiger pitcher, heard the report current that his salary would be cut in the contract on the way here for him to sign, and he came forth with:

"They can cut all they please—and maybe they can look for some pitchers, too."

He indicated he might quit baseball and stay here to run his grill, but he also indicated that when his contract arrives he might have something else to say on the subject.

Auker Quits Hospital Awaits New Contract

DETROIT, Feb. 7 (AP)—Elden Auker, 31-year-old St. Louis Browns' pitcher, has ended a three-day hospital stay following an automobile accident, but he still wants a look at his 1942 contract before deciding whether to remain in baseball.

Auker, recuperating at his home from head and chest injuries suffered Tuesday in a three-car collision, said he had not yet received terms from the Browns. The one-time Kansas State College athlete is employed by a manufacturing concern here in the off season.

WAKEFIELD, NATICK PLAY CRUCIAL GAME

The outcome of the Natick-Wakefield Eastern Mass. Hockey League game at the Arena this evening will have more bearing on the final league standings than any other tilt of the entire season

Natick, undefeated in five league engagements and currently leading the flock, will meet its fiercest test of the season in the fast-coming Wakefield crew.

Wakefield, playing its first season as a member of the ESMASS circuit, has won its last four games after dropping an early season fray to Dedham 2 to 0. The Wakes are locked in a second place tie with Dedham and are only two points behind the pace-setters, Natick.

SCORES IN CLOSE DUEL

Other games on the program are: Somerville vs. Dedham, Malden vs. Hudson and Lexington vs. Brookline.

Wakefield and Natick, both dark horses in the league scramble, have stolen the honors from more highly touted Dedham and defending champion Hudson.

With but one more game remaining in the regular season for these two clubs the winner of this clash might easily walk away with the title.

Two representatives of these clubs are waging a close battle for league high scoring honors. The Wakefield emissary, Joe Czarnota, has a one-point advantage over his second place Natick pursuer Frank Miccile. Czarnota has nine marks on his slate while Miccile has scratched the surface eight times.

HUDSON SHOULD WIN

In the event that Wakefield drops the duke to Natick and Dedham tops Somerville, the Dedham lads will move into second place behind Natick.

Hudson should settle itself safely in the fourth bracket by routing cellarite Malden.

Brookline High goes to the post a slight favorite over Lexington.

Probable lineup for tonight:

Saturday, Arena, 7 p. m.

U. S. to Send Athletic Squad to South America

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (AP)—Amateur athletic organizations in the United States will send a team to the Pan-American games in Buenos Aires next November if the government approves participation, Avery Brundage, president of the United States of America Sports Federation, said today.

He reported that all amateur sportsmen interested in the federation agreed that the program should be carried on if possible, and that the State Department had been asked for an expression of its opinion.

"We're all ready to raise a team that will make a good showing at the games," Brundage said. "But naturally we couldn't go unless the government wanted us to go. In addition to passports, we would probably need airplane transportation, which the government controls."

After the games had been scheduled to open in Buenos Aires next November, Americans interested in the competition met in New York, appointed committees and laid their plans for tryouts and the other details of raising a team.

Then came the war. Brundage said he sought the opinions of about 25 amateur athletic leaders and that the consensus was that they should carry on in the interest of public morale and the improvement of national health.

The Pan-American games, the first ever held, are open to teams from all countries in the Western Hemisphere. Competition is almost as comprehensive as the Olympic Games, embracing 15 or 20 sports.

Angel's Head Good Subject For Headlock

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, a keen student of wrestling, thinks he can whip the best in the local ranks and he'll have a good chance to prove his point when he stacks up against The Angel in a championship match at the Arena next Wednesday night.

This bout will feature the weekly card with a portion of the receipts to be turned over to the President Roosevelt Infantile Paralysis Fund.

In his workouts, Lewis has been spending a lot of time on his famous headlock and from all appearances it seems that he will give The Angel a good going over with his favorite hold. The champion's oversized head will be an outstanding target for the challenger's style of grappling.

Lift Suspension On Jockey Eads

HIALEAH PARK, Fla., Feb. 7 (AP)—The stewards announced today that the ruling dated Feb. 4 against Jockey W. Eads for ten days is rescinded.

Investigation shows that his mount that day, Distant Isle, has a habit of bearing in and on this particular day wore a one-eyed blinker hoping to correct that fault.

Files Her Tax Early—One of the 5000 early birds at the Federal Building today is Kathryn McNaught who files her federal income tax return with Assistant Collector Thomas H. Buckley of the Internal Revenue Bureau. Deadline this year for filing is March 16, and tax may be paid in quarterly installments.

Pacific Prowl—A five-inch gun of a heavy cruiser of the U. S. Pacific fleet sticks its menacing nose into the air . . . its crew on the alert for enemy planes. Another unit of the fleet can be seen in the distance.

Early Birds—Awaiting their turn to file federal income tax returns are some of the 5000 early birds who jammed offices of Internal Revenue Bureau at Federal Building today.
